Hospital Bombed

Perish in Flaming Inferno

This blazing Russian tank is just one of scores that met a flaming end in the fighting near the Summa sector of the Mannerheim line. The Finns discovered that dynamite and gasoline are effective in stopping these red juggernauts. Crews are usually burned to death before they can escape from the trapped tank.

Keep Your Distance, Fritz!

In the last war native Indian troops with their deadly crooked knives inspired dread in many a German heart. Indian troops recently arrived in France to join the British Expeditionary Force here receive from the non-com at the right keen new weapons for what censorship authorities refer to as "general utility purposes."

Sweden's King Faces a Country Divided

King Gustaf (centre), pictured as he recently addressed the Swedish Parliament at Stockholm, is facing a country sharply divided over official military intervention in the Finnish-Soviet war. His recent statement of "sympathetic neutrality" inspired a flood of messages from citizens indicating wide cleavage between "direct actionists" and stand-pat neutrals.

Final Bulletins

ROOSEVELT TO LEAD INTERNATIONALS

LONDON (CP)—It was announced officially tonight that Kermit Roosevelt would apply for permission to resign his commission as a major in the British Army to take the leadership of international volunteers in Finland.

Major Roosevelt, son of the late United States president, Theodore Roosevelt, served with the British and United States forces in the first Great War. He came to England and joined the British army shortly after the outbreak of war with Germany.

(See story "British-Canadian" on Page 67.)

Rupert Candidate

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—George F. Cameron, Vancouver barrister, today was chosen by the Skeena district Conservative Association to run as a National Government candidate in Skeena constituency in the forthcoming general election.

The sitting member for Skeena at dissolution was Olof Hanson, Liberal, who is running again. The C.C.F. has named George Weaver of New Westminster.

Swiss Greet Welles

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—More than 1,000 Swiss turned out tonight to applaud Sumner Welles, President Roosevelt's special envoy who is investigating European problems, when he arrived at Zurich from Rome on his way to Berlin.

The United States under-secretary of state passed through ranks of cantonal police in full dress uniform to an automobile which took him to a lakeside hotel, where he will remain until he takes a train for Berlin tomorrow.

Storms in Oregon

PORTLAND (AP)—Flood waters and a sudden wind storm harassed rain-soaked Oregon today.

At Ashland, where swollen Ashland and Bear Creeks washed out two bridges and a section of the canyon road, damage was estimated at several thousand dollars.

Snow at Cranbrook

CRANBROOK (CP)—There was three inches of snow in Cranbrook this afternoon and there was every prospect of the storm continuing. Traffic was being slowed down by slush on the highways.

Western Front Calm

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The French high command, in its evening communique, reported "a calm day" on the western front.

Search in Gulf Fails

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia police here said today no trace has been found yet of Dave Davidson, 24-year-old fisherman from Sardis, B.C., whose fishboat was discovered wrecked on Texada Island last week.

Mexican Wage Cut

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Sources close to President Lazaro Cardenas said today he would ask workers in Mexico's oil industry to take wage cuts and accept the dismissal of 3,000 employees to effect a saving of 24,000,000 pesos (nearly $4,000,000) yearly.

The president said the industry was being operated at a loss of about 80,000,000 pesos annually. The government expropriated foreign oil properties March 18, 1938.

Some quarters in touch with the union, which represents 18,000 employees, declared the rank and file would rebel against Cardenas' program.

Fish Inquiry to End

VANCOUVER (CP)—Opening of the final session of the Sloan commission inquiry into the salmon fishing industry today was postponed until Thursday, Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan being detained on business in Victoria.

The inquiry opened in Victoria last July 17. Sitings have also been held in Vancouver and New Westminster, and the commissioner visited the Sooke salmon traps off Vancouver Island.

Jews Must Quit

ROME (AP)—Jewish professional men were warned through press notices today of the approaching deadline for the exercise of their professional activities, fixed by the law of last June 29 at March 1.

'Scotch' Output Cut to One-third; Beer Curtailed

LONDON (CP)—Food Minister W. S. Morrison announced today Britain's whisky production must be cut to one-third of the 1939 output because of the shortage of grain for livestock.

Similarly, he said, consumption of sugar by breweries must be reduced 30 per cent.

Breweries will be permitted to continue beer production at last year's level in spite of the smaller supply of sugar.

MEATLESS SAUSAGE FEARED
Emergency meetings of butchers today demanded postponement of meat rationing, which has been set for March 11, because of the existing controversy over distribution.

Morrison also told the House of Commons the meat content and price of sausages will soon be a matter for the government's decision.

R. Sorenson, Labor, remarked, "however humorous the subject might seem, it is far from humorous when working people paid for sausages and found they had bought a large proportion of bread."

Morrison replied the people still have the protection of the Food and Drug Act.

Price Increase in B.C. To Turn More to Rye

W. F. Kennedy, B.C. Liquor Control Board chairman, said today Britain's cut in whisky production will not reduce the supply of Scotch here immediately, but there is prospect of higher prices.

Old Country distillers will raise prices because of the increased unit cost of production for the smaller output.

Whisky now being obtained from England was produced several years ago, so that the immediate problem of supplies does not arise.

Mr. Kennedy said the liquor board was not in the position to lay in large stocks in anticipation of a price increase.

As prices and supplies of Canadian-made rye whisky are unaffected, it is expected the British order will turn a proportion of drinkers from Scotch to rye. During the last couple of years there has been a growing trend of Canadians from Scotch to rye, it was explained.

DOIHARA ATTEMPTS NORTH CHINA COUP

PEIPING (AP)—Lieut. General Kenji Doihara, Japan's master political manipulator, came to town today with "plenty of money" and the reported intention of using it to ensure army control of north China, regardless of future Chinese civil government.

Unconfirmed but widely circulated stories said Doihara was mobilizing Chinese opportunists for a coup which would make him the dominant figure in the rule of north China.

The situation was pictured thus: Wang Ching-wei, Chinese leader who has thrown in with Japan, is scheduled to head a Japanese-controlled government for the occupied portions of China.

The present Peiping provisional government is scheduled to be replaced by a semi-autonomous "north China political council" under the Wang Ching-wei regime.

Furthering the Japanese army's intention of retaining an iron grip on this area, Doihara seeks to win control of this council by undermining the Chinese clique which now nominally manages affairs at Peiping.

Score of Miners Killed

ROME (AP)—At least 20 coal miners were killed and about 100 injured today by an explosion in a gallery of the Arsa mines.

More victims may be buried in the wreckage of the gallery, said officials, who attributed the blast to gas.

Arsa is in Istria province on the eastern shore of the Adriatic Sea. Its mines are the most productive in Italy.

Income Tax Returns

The office of the provincial assessor and collector at Government and Superior Streets will remain open tonight and tomorrow night until 9 for the convenience of taxpayers who cannot make their income tax returns during the day.

CANADIAN TROOPS AT NIGHT EXERCISES

ALDERSHOT (CP)—Their faces as black as a troupe of southern minstrels, but carrying "instruments" not at all resembling banjos, trained scouts of the Edmonton Regiment today staged a workmanlike reconnaissance patrol before a distinguished gallery of military experts from the British and Canadian forces.

The exercises, planned to simulate a night patrol into a defended enemy position, were personally directed by Brigadier G. R. Pearkes, V.C., officer commanding the Second Infantry Brigade. With him at the observation post were General J. W. Wilcox, inspector-general of infantry; Brigadier A. A. Smith and C. B. Price, Col. G. R. Turner, Major G. Simmonds and senior officers of the Canadian infantry.

The demonstration covered one phase of the work carried out nightly by the Canadians in perfecting their individual training. In other parts of the area similar manoeuvres are performed by patrols from other regiments.

Trawler Drives Off 2 Nazi Planes

LONDON (CP)—The Aurora, one of four British trawlers attacked by German warplanes yesterday, engaged in a 20-minute machine gun battle with two of them and drove them off, one with smoke streaming from its tail and losing altitude, it was learned today.

An incendiary bomb and machine gun fire struck the 225-ton Aurora, out of Aberdeen. Capt. Alexander Craig and the chief engineer returned the fire.

One of four bombs rained at the Aurora hit the ship in the bow and started a fire. Disregarding his own danger, the trawler's second engineer seized an extinguisher and put out the blaze while his two fellow officers peppered away at the two planes.

The other three trawlers attacked off the northeast coast of Scotland were the Bilsdean, Craigcolleach and Strathannoch. Although the ships were riddled with machine gun bullets, the Aurora's cook, who was hit in the arm, was the only one wounded in the four attacks.

The Aurora, the 242-ton Bilsdean and the 233-ton Craigcolleach put into port. The Strathannoch remained at its fishing post.

The Aurora was first attacked by a lone bomber, which was soon joined by a second raider. The captain and engineer immediately manned the ship's Lewis gun, but the planes quickly separated and attacked from opposite sides. Since the trawler mounted only one gun, the captain and the engineer could deal with but one of the planes at a time.

Three bombs fell wide of the mark, but a fourth hit the bow. The planes made a final dive on the Aurora as the second engineer was fighting the fire, but he escaped unhurt.

"One of the planes apparently was hit by our fire," one of the crew said.

VISIT TO TURKEY SETS UP RUMORS

Activities of General Maxime Weygand, above, French commander-in-chief in Near East, emphasized reports that Allies plan to seize Russian oil fields of Baku, Georgia, Tiflis, Baku and Balla. General Weygand resumed conferences with Turkish high command in Ankara after returning from inspection of British-Egyptian forces in Egypt.

R.A.F. Over Kiel, Berlin, French Bag 2 Nazi Planes

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced today that Royal Air Force planes made reconnaissance flights over Berlin again last night. A ministry communique said:

"Last night aircraft of the Royal Air Force carried out extensive reconnaissance flights over northern Germany. Our aircraft flew over Berlin and Hannover, and enemy bases at Kiel and Cuxhaven were successfully reconnoitred."

The flight over Germany by R.A.F. planes was the first reported in the past six days.

FRENCH BAG PLANES

PARIS (AP)—The downing of two German planes which took part in massed German flights over France during the past 48 hours was announced today by the French high command.

These were in addition to two other German planes—Heinkel bombers—which the British Air Ministry announced yesterday had been shot down on Britain's east coast after the German fliers had crossed France and the English Channel.

The French did not reveal whether their pursuit planes or anti-aircraft batteries were responsible for the two enemy craft destroyed over France.

Considerable firing by French anti-aircraft batteries was directed at German squadrons which flew over Paris area Monday night. Six Parisians were wounded by one anti-aircraft shell.

The French said both sides had made deep incursions into the other's territory, dropping propaganda leaflets. Clearing weather released great numbers of aviation units which had been grounded during the winter.

German planes were particularly active over eastern and northern France, pushing in as far as the Paris region, the French said.

NAZI REPORT

BERLIN (AP)—A communique from the high command today said:

"On February 27, the air force making reconnaissance flights over the North Sea, the British Isles and a limited region of France encountered vigorous enemy resistance."

"Two German machines failed to return from the flight to England. One English machine of the Bristol Blenheim type was shot down."

'Prepare for Long War'—Lloyd George

LONDON (CP)—David Lloyd George, addressing a meeting sponsored by the National Defence and Public Interest Committee, today urged the government to "make it clear" that air attacks on civilians will bring retaliation.

The former prime minister, one of the principal negotiators of the Versailles Treaty, declared that "when peace comes it must no longer be a sham pact that will not stand the first shower that falls upon it."

"And certainly it must be a peace that will not be betrayal of our principles, our pledges, our promises and our trust."

"There is one thing I want to say as an old war prime minister: Better a long war than a mean get-out."

"If you want a short war," he continued, "you must be thoroughly prepared for a long one and the enemy must know it—a long one on all fronts."

"My theme today is that at least on one vital front, in my judgment, we are not fully prepared, and that is food supplies."

"Every acre of land in this blessed isle must make its full contribution to national safety before we reach the fateful crisis," he declared.

Referring to clamor for intervention in Finland, the former prime minister said: "Don't run any more risks. . . I would not allow any reckless or inconsiderate steering on icy roads to skid us into war with Russia. It is a big job we have undertaken. It will need all our strength to get through."

Police Surround Legation

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungarian police today laid virtual siege to the French legation here where they asserted the French minister was harboring 40 Czech refugees who had entered Hungary illegally.

Police to Eject Sit-down Strikers At Pioneer Mine

Miners who "sat down" in Pioneer Mine at Bridge River yesterday will be ejected by provincial police and the mining company will be given protection to reopen its workings.

This was the government's answer today to the action of the men in walking into the mine yesterday. Premier Pattullo made the announcement after a conference with Attorney General Wismer and police officials.

"Immediate action is being taken," Attorney General Wismer commented.

It is understood police reserves are being rushed to the mine today.

"The situation at the Pioneer Mine has been very unfortunate," the Premier said. "It would appear that the owners of the mine have been hesitant in opening up the property on account of disagreement with some of the former employees of the company."

"That the company had reason to be apprehensive would appear to be evidenced by the fact that a number of men have now entered the mine without any authority. This kind of thing cannot be tolerated in British Columbia and instructions have been given that not only must the men be removed from the mine, but the mine shall be given protection so that it can be again opened up for the benefit of the workers themselves and the people of the province at large."

"When, on the initiative of the government, the Legislature passed the Industrial Arbitration and Conciliation Act, it was with a view to enabling the settlement of disputes upon a fair and equitable basis without resort to a strike."

"In the case of the Pioneer, employees went out on strike contrary to the law. The law must be upheld and it is in the interests of the workers, as well as the employers, that it should be."

MEN AT 2,400-FOOT LEVEL

PIONEER MINES, B.C. (CP)—Additional Provincial Police arrived here today while 2,400 feet below the surface 40-odd striking miners continued their day-old "sit-down" demonstration.

Sergeant F. B. Woods-Johnson of the Provincial Police here entered the Pioneer Gold Mine yesterday with two company officials and found the men camping by the 2,400-foot level station. He said the men took sacking with them to use as bedding when they entered the mine early Tuesday, and that they had food for two or three days. They also had some candles, although electric light was available.

However, there was no fresh water and Sergeant Woods-Johnson said the atmosphere at the level was hot and stale.

The leaders of the group underground refused to give any explanation of the sudden development in the five-month-old strike. Above ground there were no disturbances.

Among police reinforcements arriving were detachments led by Sergeant H. H. Mansell of Williams Lake, and Sergeant F. D. Markland of Ashcroft, while Inspector J. Shirras was reported en route from Kamloops. The men have been out of work for five months since the C.I.O. called a strike at the mine in an effort to obtain higher wages and union recognition.

Planes Draw Fire

ROMANSHORN, Switzerland (AP)—Inhabitants along the Swiss shore of Lake Constance were startled this afternoon by what sounded like an air raid on the old Zeppelin works across the lake near Friedrichshafen, Germany.

A heavy fog screened the factories, which are now making warplane motors, from the view of the Swiss, but German anti-aircraft batteries along the German shore were heard firing sporadically for nearly 15 minutes around 3 p.m., and the sound of plane motors was heard.

There was no indication of the identity of the planes heard, and no bomb explosions were heard.

Allied planes were first reported to have flown over Friedrichshafen last September 25.

Bank Robbed

TORONTO (CP)—An armed man held up a North Toronto branch of the Bank of Toronto today shortly after noon and escaped with about $300.

Navy in Control, Admiral Says

Because Germany has no reserves her navy and her army she will not have victory in the war, Admiral Sir Howard Kelly told a capacity audience in the Empress Hotel ballroom last night. He lectured under the auspices of the National Council of Education.

"Her trained submarine crews cannot be replaced," Sir Howard said. "Germany has no reserves of young officers and this lack is going to be her downfall, once things really get started."

Loss of the German crews was much more important to the Allies than loss of the submarines, Admiral Kelly said.

"We can stand our losses—we've got reserves—we can replace every ship that is sunk."

In an interesting address the white-haired veteran admiral, who was commander-in-chief of the China station of the British Navy a few years ago, told the story of the Royal Navy in time of war. His address was illuminated by lantern slides and the audience, including many sea cadets, naval officers and uniformed school girls, was able to applaud pictures of H.M.S. Ajax, H.M.S. Exeter and H.M.S. Achilles, victors over the Admiral Graf Spee and the submarine Salmon which, as Sir Howard said, let the Bremen pass because her captain observed international law and caused "a lot of us old gentlemen to say 'why didn't the young ass sink her'." But he praised the action of the Salmon's commander.

Sir Howard said he was immensely pleased to read yesterday that H.M.S. Nelson had struck a magnetic mine, not because he wished her any harm, but because it had proved to him that she could stand up against such weapons. It was a tremendous relief to him.

WAR ECCENTRICITIES

"In spite of the eccentricities of the war on land, I think we can say the war at sea is pursuing a more or less normal course," Admiral Kelly said, adding that in the first six months of this war the British had lost only about half the men and ships they lost in the same period of the last war.

He spoke of the endless monotony of the patrols in the cold of the Arctic and the heat of the tropics, always menaced by a danger the men could never see: The navy could always use more destroyers for this work—1,000 of them would not be too many.

One of the finest naval jobs of the war was being done by the commodores of the convoys, he said. Most of them were admirals, who, in peacetime, when they transferred from one ship to another, took with them 100 of a staff and "other encumbrances"; but now served with one Royal Navy Reserve signalman.

"It is terribly trying for men their age and I think we should take off our hats to them," he said.

The submarine menace was well under control, Sir Howard said, "but don't think we have them scotched, because a submarine can stand an astonishing amount of punishment and still struggle home to her base."

AUTHORITIES RELIEVED

British naval opinion was immensely relieved when the results of the Montevideo naval battle were studied, Admiral Kelly said, because, prior to that, it was not known exactly what the German pocket battleships could do. On paper, he said, the Admiral Graf Spee was a masterpiece of naval architecture, and the most expensive warship of her size ever built.

The battle was won by British skill, good shooting and good tactics, he said, and the British ships had the advantage of speed.

Action of the British Navy in the Altmark incident was perfectly just and right, he said. The story of the Altmark and the treatment meted out aboard her to the British seamen would always be a disgusting tale. What he thought about the Germans on that ship he couldn't say in front of the ladies, the Admiral said.

The navy owed gratitude to the year the Munich agreement gave the navy to prepare for war, Admiral Kelly said. He gave praise to the French navy and the navies of the Dominions. The last troop convoy from Canada was under command of a French admiral, he disclosed.

"The primary duty of the navy in time of war is to get command of the sea and to retain it—for the protection of our trade and the safe transport of armed forces, while, at the same time denying it to the enemy," he said.

"We have, this time, the great advantage of knowing our enemy and we are no longer liable to the same surprises."

Albert Sullivan, chairman of the local branch of the National Council, introduced Admiral Kelly, who was thanked by Major Cuthbert Holmes.

C.N.R. JUSTIFIES KING'S POLICY

YOUBOU — "Maintenance by the Liberal Party of the integrity of the Canadian National Railways as a publicly-owned and publicly-controlled service since 1935 has demonstrated its value to the Allies today," said Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo riding, speaking here last night in the Community Hall.

"If we had jettisoned the Canadian National system, as many wished the government to do, shipment of the lumber being cut in these mills today to our allies who need it so badly would have been delayed. The Liberal government promised in 1935 to help the Canadian National Railways function as a nationally-owned system for the benefit of the people of Canada, and the Liberal government of Mackenzie King has made the people's railway into a going concern. The Bennett government insisted upon treating the C.N.R. as a bankrupt system. Naturally the morale of the railway employees was greatly weakened and rendered less suited for keen competition. The new Liberal legislation regarded the railway system not as a bankrupt institution but as a going concern. Their faith has been justified."

Mr. Chambers spoke at some length on air transportation development in Canada, and praised the efficient administration of the Minister of Transport, C. D. Howe.

NEED OF SAANICH SEWERS REPORTED

Saanich experienced a year comparatively free from major infectious diseases, but the matter of sewage disposal in some sections of the municipality should be dealt with without delay because of the menace to both health and life. Dr. J. L. Clayton, medical health officer, reported in his annual report to the Saanich Council last night.

Dr. Clayton reported there were 117 known cases of tuberculosis in the municipality. Dealing with the need for sewers Dr. Clayton commented "a fairly densely populated district adjacent to Victoria creates a definite problem and hazard in its lack of proper sewage disposal. . . . One typhoid case or carrier in this district might easily result in an epidemic."

He said also there was need for a proper system of garbage collection and disposal and proper supervision of plumbing installations.

30,000,000 Poles Driven From Homes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty million Poles have been driven from their homes and a relief fund of $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 probably is needed to save the conquered nation from ruin, according to information given the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee.

F. Y. Switlick of Milwaukee, president of the Polish-American Council, told the committee the 30,000,000 had been dispossessed "of everything" and herded into a portion of the country that was "nothing but a concentration camp."

Chauncey McCormick of Chicago, president of the Commission for Polish Relief, said that unless surplus United States food and clothing were sent to the refugees the health of children would be wrecked by malnutrition.

Mackenzie King Appeals on Record Of Tried, Experienced Leadership

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, painting a dark picture of a long wide-spread war, opened his western election campaign with an appeal for return of his government as "the ablest body you can bring together, of one mind and one purpose, to serve you in war effort."

Speaking here last night at the first of two meetings scheduled to hear him on the prairies, the Prime Minister warned his listeners the next Parliament would be a "war Parliament" and that the government would have power of life and death over Canadian citizens.

It was the grave responsibility of government to initiate measures which meant the sacrifice of Canadian lives.

"Who will say what we shall see before this terrible period is over?" the Prime Minister asked. "Your individual and personal fate will be at stake in the next few years."

"No person here will find himself in the fortunate position two years hence that he is in tonight, unless I am greatly mistaken."

"Demands are going to be made upon us the like of which we have never known. The world today demands experienced men to administer the affairs of every country. For that reason and that alone we are asking you to support us at the present time."

Mr. King was introduced by Mines Minister Crerar. On the platform with him were Justice Minister Lapointe, Premier John Bracken of Manitoba and prominent western Canada Liberals.

The Prime Minister told his audience his government was not seeking renewed support simply to hold office "but because we think it is in your interest at this time when the world is faced with the most appalling situation of all times. . . . It is our high patriotic duty."

The speaker said: "The future as I see it is a very, very dark and terrible one. I ask any one of you if you would wish the responsibility which is mine as leader of the government."

"All that has happened since last September has served to increase rather than decrease our apprehension. Invasion of Finland by Russia was not thought of last September."

"Think of the possibilities which may follow if the war keeps spreading and you will realize what is in the minds of those who have had to deal with these matters in recent months."

EXPERIENCE
The present government, Mr. King said, had the experience and grasp of Canada's problems which it would take a new administration a long time to acquire. The present government was working in close co-operation with the French and British governments and had all these relations established.

"You would do well to retain those who know best of Canada's needs and are best equipped to carry on the war effort," he said.

Once the war was over there would be international conferences to make the peace terms, the Prime Minister said.

"Keep that in mind when you are deciding who to trust with government for the next few years."

"There will have to be some one to represent Canada at the international conferences which will be held. I think the views of Mr. Lapointe and myself as to what will help maintain peace and good will would be the voice of Canada."

QUESTIONS FOR MANION

To the Conservative Party and those who might wish to support it the Prime Minister said they had the right to know what men Conservative Leader Manion planned to put in his proposed National government, and what policies would be initiated.

The Prime Minister also had a message for the Social Credit Party and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. There might be a time for experiments with financial schemes and for discussion of economic reforms, "but that time is not at a time of war as at present," he said. It was more essential than ever at this time to maintain the financial integrity and solidarity of the Dominion.

Speaking of dissolution of Parliament the day it opened last January 25, the Prime Minister said it had not been an easy thing to do to his "loyal supporters" who went to Ottawa expecting a session and the sessional indemnity only to find there was no session, no Parliament and no indemnity. His action had been dictated by the tactics of the Ontario Legislature, which had created a "false impression" of disunity in Canada. It was no time to think of the personal troubles of himself or his followers.

"I had to consider it in the light of the way it would be viewed by our allies and our enemies."

The Prime Minister referred to Dr. Manion's query as to what had been done with $188,000,000 spent on defence before the outbreak of war. He said the figure was wrong. The government had spent $94,000,000 from 1936 to 1939 inclusive.

NEW EQUIPMENT

Of that amount $10,000,000 went for nonmilitary details such as relief camps started by the former government and civil aviation; $52,000,000 as pay and allowances in the navy, army and air force, and $32,000,000 for new equipment, stores, arms, munitions, defence works, aircraft and ships.

First duty of the government in 1935 was to replenish stores and equipment neglected by the government preceding, the Prime Minister said. In 1935 there were no bombs, no modern service planes, no modern weapons and no modern equipment.

For this money the naval services had been doubled, five destroyers, four minesweepers and one training schooner bought, coastal defences strengthened, the militia mechanized, tanks and anti-aircraft guns purchased, camps and barracks enlarged, the air force (permanent) trebled, 110 aircraft and 230 engines bought before March 31, 1939, air stations enlarged and stocks of bombs, ammunition and other equipment obtained.

The Prime Minister declared the late Conservative government had "butchered" the air force, over the prolonged opposition of the Liberal Party, and reduced expenditures on that branch almost to the vanishing point.

Mr. King defied Dr. Manion to prove his charge that the present government had refused Great Britain's first request for air training in Canada and thus delayed the Commonwealth air training agreement reached last fall.

The truth was that when the British government had made inquiries as to the possibility of setting up air training establishments of its own in Canada it had been told this would not be acceptable but that Canada would arrange advanced training for British airmen in the Dominion's own schools and establishments. This was satisfactory to Great Britain, the Prime Minister said, and the plan was carried out.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, who is Manitoba's representative in the cabinet, said Canada was determined to prosecute the war to its fullest ability.

"But if Canada is to make her maximum contribution in this struggle the first essential is maintenance of unity," he said.

In the team of Mackenzie King and Lapointe was a symbol of the unity maintained in Canada under the present Prime Minister.

When Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe started to speak a diversion was created by the uproar from an unseen, overflow audience in the

A Statesman's Speech

FOR ITS ORDERLY MARSHALLING OF fact, its clear recital of how the present government at Ottawa had anticipated the eventuality which broke over the Empire last September, and how subsequent conditions and circumstances were met by Canada, the speech which Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General of the Dominion, delivered before a large and appreciative audience in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium yesterday afternoon was a model of practical statesmanship and instructive argument.

Had it not been for the fact that we are in the midst of a general election, that Victoria's Liberal candidate was on the platform in his official role, and that Major Power could not very well avoid certain studies in relatively the performance of the government of which he is a member and the promises—plus wild criticisms—with which the opposition party is surfeiting the country, the meeting could almost have gone down on the record as a nonpartisan affair. For only in more or less casual particulars did the Minister resort to those comparisons that are part of the stock in trade of political controversy. There were no recriminations.

In the atmosphere of the gathering it was not difficult to discern an intensive desire for the truth, devoid of rhetorical embellishment, stripped of all attempts to make political capital. Major Power was dealing with facts as he knew them and understood them from personal first-hand experience as a member of the government—a government charged with the preparations for Canada's defence, for her role as a participating member of the Commonwealth, and her mission as a source of supply for those vital commodities essential to the successful prosecution of the conflict now being waged.

But not only did the Minister speak from his fund of knowledge as a member of the cabinet; he drew on his personal experiences in the last war—and he will carry its marks to his grave—to strengthen, if such were required, his support of policies which had been designed to prevent the recurrence of those mistakes, with their costly economic consequences, which marked Canada's early participation in the conflict of a quarter of a century ago. Major Power's quiet and straightforward account of the business with which he is intimately associated, therefore, must have impressed those who heard him with his inherent ability and his resolute will to give his best to the cause to which all Canadians have set their hands and hearts.

The Old Story

FEW COUNTRIES IN HISTORY HAVE been wooed as intensely as Rumania has been, and is being, wooed by the belligerent nations of Europe. The Allies want as much of her oil as they can get, irrespective of whether they need it, but chiefly to prevent Nazi Germany from getting it. They have given their guarantee to King Carol's domain that if it should be attacked they will come to its aid. For this, and other more tangible considerations, Britain and France to date seem to have rather the better of the bargain. But still another proposal is reported to have reached Bucharest from Berlin. It has a familiar ring. The Nazi Reich is seen on this occasion in the role of guarantor of Rumania's borders against all comers—in return for huge increases in oil, wheat and other raw material shipments to Germany. To buttress the offer, so says the report, Germany would undertake to prevail upon Hungary, Bulgaria and Soviet Russia to abandon their territorial claims on Rumania and to sign nonaggression pacts.

This is an interesting development. Its acceptance, by the way, would oblige Rumania to abandon her plans for civil mobilization, and require her to disband something like 1,000,000 of her men who are at present under arms in anticipation of any emergency. Numerous reasons may be cited why there is little prospect of the Bucharest government falling into such a neatly constructed trap. King Carol and his advisers would like to keep their country out of the war and still continue its normal business with its neighbors and with the Allies. Such may be possible. Meanwhile, however, a German promise is poor bait and not likely to attract Rumania to do anything so foolish as to take it. She knows where she stands with Britain and France; and if she were to relinquish her vigilance or reduce her preparedness in any important particular she would become an easy prey to a German or a German-Russian attack. For Berlin appears to have reached a mood now in which the Nazi hierarchy will stop at nothing.

Speaking of Preparedness

COME CONSERVATIVE SPEAKERS hereabouts have ventured to talk of preparedness, but facts assembled by the Ottawa Citizen in a long article recall that the Conservative record on preparedness is far from inspiring. Not only did Dr. Manion after becoming opposition leader make no effort to urge greater preparedness, but his liveliest outbursts in the House last year were devoted to associating himself with those outside elements opposed to any plan for more vigor in promoting national security. Also, not to be overlooked is that under the last Conservative administration, which included Dr. Manion, Mr. Stevens, Mr. Cahan, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Lawson—Conservative master-minds in the present strategy—the Bennett government sabotaged the Royal Canadian Air Force. Years of careful work in the upbuilding of a small but efficient air force in Canada went down under Conservative economics. Skilled mechanics in the Air Force workshops, aircraftmen, pilots, men with invaluable experience were dismissed. The Conservative policy of disarmament left Canada practically defenceless in the air.

Before the Conservatives took office in 1930, the Department of National Defence under Col. J. L. Ralston had initiated the policy of gradually developing air service resources in Canada, with ground facilities for the Royal Canadian Air Force, including workshops and airdromes and building up staffs of skilled men. However, the Bennett government largely destroyed this careful planning by wiping out staffs and abandoning projects. Canadian air defence almost disappeared until after the Liberal party returned to power in 1935 to establish the new Department of Transport under Hon. C. D. Howe, who launched the program which has given Canada its airfields and air services from coast to coast. This air program is regarded as the most substantial contribution to Canadian defence made in the years immediately before the outbreak of war.

He Knows This Province

SURELY THERE IS NO REASON WHY anybody should work up a temperature because Mr. Cromwell, United States Minister to Canada, implied at Ottawa the other day he had a very soft spot in his heart for British Columbia and expressed the hope that the Alaska-Yukon highway project would one day become a fait accompli. The morning paper sees in this something new "in international relations" when the envoy of a "foreign government" interjects his opinions on matters of a domestic nature. Our contemporary further embellishes its observations on this important international proposal with the following:

"At this stage of the investigations, personal opinions held by those in favor of the construction of the highway or against such action, should have little weight with the commission expressly selected to make a detailed report on the subject. That such an expression of opinion should come from the accredited Minister of one of the nations concerned is to be wondered at, however sincere may have been the feeling prompting the interjection."

It is scarcely to be expected, of course, that Hon. W. J. Assestine's provincial travel bureau will quarrel with Mr. Cromwell's voluntary advertisement of British Columbia's charms, or that the businessmen of the province—especially those of Victoria and Vancouver—will ask the censor at Ottawa to relegate to the wastepaper basket all future diplomatic "indiscretions" such as that of which the morning paper complains. And was it not the morning paper which said 10 years ago that promotion of the British Columbia-Alaska road "has opened up a vista of doubling, trebling, perhaps quadrupling the tourist traffic to this province in the years to come"? It was, And Dr. Tolmie, then Premier, thought so, too. The present head of the government of British Columbia still thinks so.

As a cure for the harboring or uttering of "dangerous thoughts," an oath of allegiance is to be administered to all British Columbia school teachers, just as it is to members of Parliament. The real danger may be that the teachers may think it gives them the right to say the things members of Parliament say after taking their oaths.

'Reign-of-Terror' Protection

From Winnipeg Free Press

The Dominion government would do a wise thing if it made clear that the administration of the Defence of Canada Regulations—the special powers granted it to restrict peacetime liberty in the interests of our war effort—should be left wholly to it and its own law officers. As things stand just now action can be taken under the regulations by any provincial Attorney-General, with the result that they are administered with varying degrees of wisdom and activity from province to province. In Ontario, Mr. Conant has instituted a senseless reign of terror against many harmless though foolish people. In Manitoba, on the other hand, our law officers have maintained a prudence commendable in its restraint, its respect of freedom and its sense of the value of freedom as part of the national war effort.

It would be altogether wise if the provincial authorities were to refuse to take action under this special and temporary set of Dominion powers on the ground that the war-time authorities at Ottawa, the censorship board, the Department of Justice and so on, should administer the regulations which were themselves brought into being by federal order-in-council. In this way immediate uniformity of enforcement would be imposed from coast to coast, and the vagaries of nine different provincial authorities would not render the insecurity of the citizen greater than it need be.

If this were done it might then be possible to create quite rapidly an established body of precedent which would usefully limit the application of the very drastic regulations now framed. Nothing should be done to limit the rigors of the regulations in so far as overt acts against the state are concerned. Espionage, sabotage, direct pressure brought by one individual upon another to prevent him doing something valuable or to persuade him to perform some disservice to the state in time of war: These should form the hard, unyielding centre of the administration of the regulations.

Parallel Thoughts

Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and everything that moveth therein.—Psalm 69:34.

Praise, more divine than prayer; prayer points our ready path to heaven; praise is already there.—Young.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SAD FACES

YESTERDAY I spent in Vancouver getting drenched to the skin and shivering in a wind off the North Shore mountains, just after I had written a lush piece for a Vancouver paper concerning the beautiful early spring. And when I am in Vancouver, as you know to your sorrow, I invariably form certain profound opinions on the subject of Vancouver and bring them back here to bore the innocent natives.

Well, yesterday I had occasion to walk some 30 or 40 miles about the streets of Vancouver in the rain and I had plenty of time to observe the face of Vancouver. I mean the human face.

The human face of Vancouver is not cheering. Nor is the human face of Winnipeg, Ottawa, Toronto, New York, or Washington, as I have observed them lately. The human face everywhere these days is full of wear and worry. And I thought to myself as I hurried along that it was no wonder everybody looked so miserable. It is the war, I said to myself. Everybody is worried and distressed on account of the war.

But then it occurred to me that there was no change in the face of Vancouver, or in the face of Winnipeg, Ottawa, Toronto, New York or Washington. These places all wore precisely the same look at this time last year, before the war had started. They had the same look five years ago and 10 years ago. The war hasn't changed it in the least.

NOT BUILT RIGHT

SO I HAVE COME HOME here with the profound conclusion that people who live in great cities always look sad and are always in a state of subconscious worry and distress. If peace were to come tomorrow, if all our economic problems were to be settled, if all the armies were sent home, I do not doubt that, after a preliminary celebration, the face of the modern city, whether it be Vancouver, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Toronto, New York or any of the innumerable imitations thereof, would still be puckered in deep lines of care.

If there were no war to worry about the modern city would find something else. Indeed, the very act of living in a modern city, the rush and bustle and physical effort of merely staying afloat, is enough to keep the human animal in distress. He was never made for such a life, never designed mechanically to stand it, never given the necessary tensile strength, the reinforcement and armor plate.

I was talking in Vancouver about this very thing to my friend Percy, who is wiser than most men, and he said he had been to England and Europe last fall and he had come back with a definite opinion. He held, in short, that the people in Europe were much happier than we are here. It is they who are close to the war and have been for 20 years; they who have suffered most from it in blood and taxes. It is the Europeans who are commonly accused of setting the world on fire, and yet it is the Europeans who show in their ordinary lives a much greater sanity, a much happier disposition, a much more cheerful face than we do. Why, your average Englishman and your French peasant and your German farmer make a successful Canadian or American businessman look like a bankrupt undertaker suffering from anaemia.

DEEPER DISEASE

THAT WAS PERCY'S observation. That was mine, several years ago. And it adds up to this, that we are suffering in America not from a mere economic disease, not from the evils and blunders of politics, not from an obviously absurd financial system but from something deeper, from a vague spiritual disease and discontent deep within us, an inarticulate revolt against the whole civilization we have built up—a feeling which we will not admit even to ourselves, which most of us could not identify or give a name to.

This is the real revolution, far deeper than the economic and political revolutions which float on the top of it. And this is the thing, the strangled, tangled and jangled emotions of the human being in North America, his feeling that for generations he has been moving in the wrong direction, doing the wrong things, achieving worthless victories, piling up only Midas gold—it is this thing which will shape the future of America, not the economic, political and financial theories that are babbling these days in the mouth of every half-baked prophet who has read a pamphlet or heard of Howard Scott.

ESCAPE

THAT IS WHY PEOPLE flee away from life in Vancouver and other great cities, while we embrace it here. So great is the flight these days that huge industries have been built up to provide forms of escape, and without them we should probably all drink ourselves to death. Percy and I, for example, went to see Miss Dietrich in her new wild west picture and I must say it didn't offer much escape.

What I mean is, if we are going to have a system that we must escape from, let the fire escapes be of the best quality. Miss Dietrich, alas, is no longer of the best quality. She no longer makes you thrill and shiver. We have all grown old, but actresses won't admit it.

This is just a feeble suggestion to the boss men down in Hollywood that they let Miss Dietrich retire to her well-earned rest, let her grow comfortably stout in middle age, instead of starving herself to death for the sake of her famous legs. They aren't worth it any more. That fire escape is definitely out of date.

Now a psychiatrist comes forward with a theory that many men go to war to get away from their wives, the cowards.

Hodge-Podge Politics

From Hamilton Spectator
(Conservative)

RUMOR has it—for want of better rumor—that the Conservative party may emerge as the National Government party. It appears that the letterhead already in use for advertising Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion's "best brains" coalition—to-be already reveals this label.

National Government party is one step in the process that produced National Conservative party at the convention in Ottawa last year. Why it was necessary to add this "National" qualification is one of those little mysteries that indicate a subtlety beyond the comprehension of the average politics-weary citizen. But there it is—if it makes any difference.

IT MIGHT be cautiously suggested that behind this lies the belief that people have largely forgotten what the Conservative party has stood for in Canada, and that the way to remedy this is to make them forget it completely. Tradition is a word that moves shamefacedly like a dog with its tail between its legs through all these grandiloquent expressions of political novelty like New Democracy, Social Credit and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. But if the Conservative party is not a National party in the real sense, if the party which laid the foundations of an industrial nation; that opened up the west with its daring, but effective railway building; that turned back a dangerous trend in 1911; that took the burden of the government end of the Great War for three years, that wrestled with the violent years of the depression after 1929—and at least could take credit for holding Canada to a steady keel than almost any other country in the world—if all this is not one with the development of Canada as a nation within the British Empire, then we had better rewrite our history and find out what is.

BUT we don't think that this history has to be rewritten. It only has to be remembered. If the Conservative party has anything to be ashamed of, except recent defeats that were more a part of fate than shortcomings in administration, then it might as well give up. When Right Hon. R. B. Bennett made his remarkable professions of Rooseveltian principles at the end of his tenure of power he did, it is true, confuse things a bit. Yet, instead of settling a confusion that was based largely on the senseless fallacy that the Conservative party is reactionary in its attitude toward "social reform"—a fallacy that is also emphasized by its tradition—the men who took over from Mr. Bennett proceeded to make it worse by trying to compose a patchwork of conflicting ideas and policies that, intended to please every one, pleased practically no one. They strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel. This juggling with party nomenclature emphasizes it.

GRANTING the experience of those who now guide the Conservative party, it might still be suggested to them that perhaps they are not too clear on the public clamor about "party politics." This clamor is from a public that still recognizes the value, and vital necessity, of maintaining the two-party system. It is as essential to a democracy as free speech and a free press. It is the most, the only workable form of democratic government. The people are not fed up with the Conservative or Liberal parties for what they represent, but for what they have frequently done to attain power. They are fed up with cheap sectional appeals; buying up of votes through patronage gifts, and endless compromising about what direction should be given to Canada as a nation.

THE average voter is not impressed by sectional appeals; he asks no gifts in patronage, he is not a ward heeler, nor a party "hanger-on." He wants honest, courageous government. If this sounds too simple, then perhaps our politicians might try injecting more simplicity into their technique. If a hodge-podge of Conservatives, Social Crediters and what-nots are to make up a National government, and if this kind of government is to give coherent guidance to Canada, then most people will want to see the animal before they believe it. But it is not unlikely that a great many Canadians still prefer the badgered dogs of tradition and consistency.

THE VOTERS of the Dominion have shown time and time again that they still have faith in the two-party system, and practically none at all in the other groups who have tried to edge in on it and disrupt it. There need be no timidity on that score; the records speak for themselves.

MINING AND TUNNELLING

From Toronto Star

German troops are doing a lot of tunnelling and mining along the Siegfried Line. Most of the work probably is of a defensive character designed to enable troops to assemble in large numbers and move from one sector to another without exposing themselves. The Maginot Line has been much better designed in that respect. The enemy has prepared many explosive mines for the protection of the Siegfried Line. He also may be engaged in constructing tunnels across No Man's Land in the hope of building them unnoticed beyond or into the Maginot Line. The chance of him having much success in such an effort is slim. Much mining and countermining went on during the world war, and soldiers found it a particularly repugnant form of warfare. The opposing diggers could hear one another at work, and anxiously speculated as to which would be the first to try to blow the other fellows sky high. The explosion of monster mines on the Vimy Ridge facilitated the famous Canadian victory in April, 1917.

FINE FEATHERS

From Manchester Guardian

The rule, just issued, that neither full dress nor mess uniform will be worn on any occasion during the war will mean a saving to officers, though not on the same scale as would have been the case a century ago, when the memory of the days of George, Regent and King, still lingered. It was to the early years of Queen Victoria that an old Hussar officer referred when he told Fortescue that he had been in command of a royal escort which had involved seven miles of dusty roads covered at a brisk trot. Towards the end a thunderstorm broke, and the heavy rain drove the dust into the cloth of his uniform. He calculated that in ruined equipment that day cost him £350 besides a similar amount which he had given for his charger, which caught cold and died. But 20 years earlier it was occasionally necessary, after spending a year's pay on the original uniforms, to repeat the process, sometimes quarterly, to suit the varying tastes of him who "whether Regent or King, was above all things, a tailor."

THE SUPREME TASK

The Montreal Star holds no mandate for any party, but is solely concerned that the will of the people shall be made known in as explicit a manner as possible, in order that the country may settle down again to its supreme duty of prosecuting the war.

BRIGADIER BROWN'S RETIREMENT

To the Editor:—It is said a half-truth is worse than a lie. In two issues of the Daily Colonist it mentioned that Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown had retired from position of district officer commanding Military District No. 11 because of his protest against treatment of unemployed men in the single unemployed camps under national control. One issue gave the date as 1933. This was during the regime of the Conservative government of Hon. R. B. Bennett.

I am sure Brigadier Brown does not wish the public to believe the Liberal government under Hon. Mackenzie King had any connection with it.

MAKING TEACHERS SWEAR

To the Editor:—"Alleged indiscreet utterances on the part of some teachers have been the subject of some public comment." So the Minister of Education orders that 4,000 school teachers must swear allegiance to George VI.

Dr. Weir's edict looks as though he thought that the utterances were more than indiscreet, or at least that the public might interpret them as treasonable. If any part of the public thinks that utterances of the teachers are treasonable, there is already a sufficient machinery to deal with such cases provided by the Criminal Code and the Defence of Canada Act. I cannot see why Dr. Weir insists upon ensuring the loyalty of a few indiscreet teachers by forcing several thousands of the discreet teachers to take the oath.

I am not a member of the teaching profession, but I am writing because I realize that the teachers are not free to express their opinions, as their jobs are at stake.

Canada Well Prepared

Government Appeals Directly on Record

"Never before has there been such agreement on an election issue. Dr. Manion says the government's war record is at point. Mr. King accepts the challenge that this is so. There is no confusion about it at all. The people are the judges and we will gladly and freely accept their judgment."

This was the basis on which Major the Hon. Charles G. Power, Postmaster-General, summed up the government's appeal to the electorate of Canada when in his address at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon he gave a comprehensive statement of the manner in which the defences of Canada had been rebuilt in the last three years, two years of preparation and study put into drafting the military and civil organization necessary for war, and then the whole machinery put into operation.

Before the outbreak of war expenditures were allotted purely to the defence of Canada, he said, for the organization of an air force, equipping of the navy and construction of coastal forts. This went ahead quietly and efficiently.

"You know," he said, "you can have a ceremony and fanfare for the opening of a bridge or a building. You can't have a ceremony for the opening of a secret fort, but you people in Victoria know they have been constructed."

Canada's own air requirements, apart altogether from the Empire training scheme, were estimated before the war at 525 planes, he said. When war broke out there were 290 serviceable machines and 140 more on order. Today the requisite number of machines was in service.

FORCES INCREASED

Instead of two modern destroyers as in 1935, Canada had at the outbreak of war 7 destroyers and 5 minesweepers, naval stores had been replenished, warehouses and barracks rebuilt and the personnel doubled. The army had been completely reorganized to be adapted to modern mechanized war and manufacture of munitions rapidly increased.

"On the day war broke out there were squadrons of reconnaissance, scouting and bombing planes ready for action on the Atlantic coast and the Canadian navy was in action to protect our trade routes in co-operation with the British navy," he said. "The coast defences were manned and there were two divisions ready for organization of the active service force."

He dealt also with the multiple organization of the "civilian effort" to protect the economic front, protect the country's exchange, prevent profiteering and increase in the cost of living.

Already, he said, the government was preparing for peace through its rehabilitation committee for soldiers and taking steps to apply the pension laws to members of the forces.

Fundamentally this organization provided for every emergency that could be foreseen.

Mr. Power digressed for a moment to discuss Dr. Manion's proposal for a national government of the "best brains."

ALL-STARS

"It would be an all-star team, and anyone who has played hockey knows that an all-star team doesn't fare so well against a team that is used to playing together. And I don't think there'd be much chance of an all-star team of Mitch Hepburn, Col. Drew and Maurice Duplessis to shake itself down to the tasks in hand without a considerable delay."

But he attacked, vigorously, as one who had a high respect for those who believed in Conservative traditions, the action of the party in changing its name from "National Conservative" to the "National Government Party."

"Not only has the political ship been scuttled but the flag was hauled down before it was scuttled," he said.

"I regret that a grand old party that had a right to its name should suddenly, and without justification, at a time when its strong ties with the Mother Country and its deep sentimental tradition are most needed — should suddenly be called upon to disappear."

Mr. Power referred to pay allowances for the armed forces and admitted that mistakes had been made. As rapidly as possible the mistakes had been corrected. He said he would rather from the start have seen "some of the lads from my former pension department handling them than the brass hats." Recently officials accustomed to dealing with such matters have taken charge.

Touching on the Duplessis attempt at Union Nationale government in Quebec and its subsequent attempt to save itself with an anti-war election, he said:

QUEBEC'S APPEAL

"Within three years that government fell on account of two things: political favoritism and partisanship and the political opportunism of its leader."

"We from Quebec are now able to go to other sections of Canada and say 'You were the first to congratulate us on our stand at home in favor of national unity — now we are able to come to you and ask you to do the same.'"

Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo, who spoke briefly at the opening of the meeting, challenged Dr. Manion for attacking Canada's war effort when it was satisfactory to such men as Prime Minister Chamberlain and declared that many of those who had paid lip service to the C.C.F. theories of fighting Fascist aggression could now put their ideas into action by voting for the King government.

Mr. Power was introduced by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, as a "happy warrior from old Quebec where one of Canada's greatest historic events has recently taken place."

R. W. Mayhew, the Victoria Liberal candidate who thanked Mr. Power, said the speaker had shown the government had laid a solid foundation in a short space of time for defeating "any man who would try to run the world or part of it without God."

Carew Martin, president Victoria Liberal Association, was chairman.

EQUAL ALLOWANCE TREATMENT PLAN

In course of his one-day visit here yesterday, Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General, interested himself in the discussion regarding separation and allowances and pay for naval men.

The minister got in touch with Ottawa about the situation and after talking to officials here, commented that the scale of allowances was so drawn up that all branches of the armed services would get similar treatment.

It was true, he said, that naval allowances were somewhat smaller than those paid in the army, but this was because the navy pay scale was higher. The total pay and allowances re-

His Job to Find Canuck In War Prison Haystack

In Germany today there are less than 100 Canadian prisoners of war, either interned as civilians or captured in active service.

"Considerably less, perhaps," Lieut.-Col. H. Stethem, recently appointed director of Canada's first Prisoners of War Information Bureau, said to Jessie MacTaggart of the Toronto Star.

Through this newly created bureau, information will be exchanged between Canada and Germany, and any other nation holding Canadian prisoners of war.

Col. Stethem is tall and well built, and is the kind of hearty-looking man to whom people in peace or war just naturally would turn with their troubles. Of all men in Ottawa heading departments today it is doubtful if any enjoys his appointment more than does this grey-haired colonel, who has a son in this war, and who regards prisoners not as statistics, but as so many interesting people. He also is assistant director of Canada's internment operations under Brigadier-General E. B. Panet.

PART OF INTERNATIONAL LINK

In the last war Canada exchanged prisoner information through Great Britain. Since then Canada has assumed nationhood, and as such signed an international convention at Geneva which sets up in countries at war information bureaux such as that now at Ottawa, and a central exchange organization at Geneva.

"The International Red Cross is handling the central organization at Geneva," he said. "This is how it works. Mrs. Jones here wants to find out how her husband is, who, she suspects, is interned in Germany. We cable or airmail the inquiry to Geneva through the department of external affairs."

"It is handed over by our representatives to the Central Agency of Information at Geneva, who, if they are not already in possession of the desired information, will at once communicate with the P.W.I.B. in Germany, from whom they will secure the necessary information. The answer will return," he added, "by the same route."

USE FOREIGN OFFICES

"Suppose I have a relative in Germany who, I think, has escaped into Rumania. How can I find out where he is?"

Should an inquiry arise in Canada concerning a Canadian who is thought to be in a refugee or an interned in a neutral country, this bureau would put the inquiry through the department of external affairs, which would transmit it through a Canadian legation or a British embassy to the country concerned," he said.

"Suppose he didn't leave. Suppose he's still in Germany?" "In the event of an inquiry arising regarding a Canadian citizen thought to be in Germany and not interned, we would transmit the inquiry through the department of external affairs to the Canadian legation in Washington, who would transmit it through the United States state department to the U.S. embassy in Berlin."

"The reply would come back through the same agencies," he said.

SWISS ACTS FOR GERMANS

Inquiries arising in Germany about persons interned in Canada are made either through their own P.W.I.B. and the central agency at Geneva to the Ottawa bureau or else are sent through the consul-general for Switzerland in Canada, who, explained Colonel Stethem, is the "protecting power" for German interests in this country.

"The Swiss consul-general would transmit the inquiry to the department of external affairs, who would obtain the information from the branch concerned, depending on whether the person referred to was interned under internment operations or a registered enemy alien under the registrar-general of enemy aliens," he said.

The Canadian P.W.I.B., which he heads, has now compiled complete information regarding all German nationals interned in Canada, and in accordance with the provision of the international convention (relative to the treatment of prisoners of war) this information is being transmitted to the central agency of information at Geneva and also through the consul-general for Switzerland to Germany.

The delivery of this information to Germany, through both agencies, will be subject to reciprocal action on the part of Germany as regards her submission of lists of interned Canadian citizens, the colonel said. These lists must contain all information concerning the identity, arrest and names and addresses of the next-of-kin of each prisoner.

"We even let them know every time a prisoner is ill, how he is progressing, and all information that his relatives overseas might reasonably expect to know," said the colonel. "It is very, very interesting."

When a person is taken prisoner in any of the countries which are signatories to the convention (these include all the large powers) not only is the central agency at Geneva informed, but also the "protecting powers" which passes the information on to the country concerned.

This means, explained the colonel, that if a Canadian is taken prisoner in Germany, his name is placed on record at Geneva, and the fact of his being taken also is transmitted through other diplomatic channels, depending on his status at the time he became a prisoner.

"Jennie Jones may write to us that her brother is with the Royal Air Force and his plane came down in German territory. She wants to know if he's a German prisoner," said the colonel.

ENGLAND TO SUPPLY LINK

"If he is a prisoner and was serving with the R.A.F. when he was taken, his name will have been transmitted by Germany to the P.W.I.B. in London," he said. "We hope to complete arrangements by which the P.W.I.B. in London will keep the P.W.I.B. in Canada informed as to any information which they may have concerning Canadians serving with the English forces."

"If we had no definite information concerning Jennie Jones' brother, the inquiry would be made through the central agency at Geneva," he said.

By the same international convention which set up the bureau, universal conditions are provided for the prisoners of all countries. According to the convention, prisoners of war must be kept in a suitable climate.

During the last Great War, he said, the crew of the Emden, the famous German raider, were interned in Canada, mostly at Fort Henry, Kingston. These prisoners of war and several hundred others were moved from Bermuda to Canada for internment.

Grantham Answers Loyalty Question

Taking up the cudgels against those who question the loyalty of the C.C.F., Ronald Grantham, the party's candidate in Nanaimo riding, declared last night that true patriotism did not mean blindly serving the vested interests.

Speaking at Galliano Island, he declared true loyalty was devotion to the interests of the people and the firm determination to do what was best for the general good.

The C.C.F., he declared, was not willing to abandon people to the mercies of industrial bankers. The war burden must be borne by those best able to carry it. Canada's war policy must be based on her own interests.

Grace McInnes, the supporting speaker, criticized the plan for national superannuation advanced by Alan Chambers, the Liberal candidate, calling it a little reform that would not solve the fundamental problems. If Mr. Chambers were sincere he would join the people's party and get away from an old-line party.

Garden Competition

GANGES—The Ganges Women's Institute held their monthly meeting in Mahon Hall, Mrs. T. Charlesworth presiding. Plans were made for holding the children's garden competition, ages ranging from 8 to 14, in plots measuring 10 by 20 feet, the crops to be beans, carrots, potatoes and corn, and possibly late sweet peas. The garden committee will have charge of arrangements.

To aid the fund for soldiers' and sailors' comforts sponsored by the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E. Mrs. E. Walter and Miss D. Beddis were joint hostesses at a progressive whist party. First prizes were won by Mrs. S. P. Beech and Miss A. Lees, the consolation prizes going to Mrs. L. Mouat and Mrs. P. Brodie.

Miss Ethel Barron of north Salt Spring entertained a number of friends at an American badminton tournament in Central Settlement Hall. Miss Nora Turner and Kenneth Eaton were the winners, consolation prizes being awarded to Miss Eunice Roberts and Douglas Parsons.

Candidate Quits

SELKIRK, Man. (CP)—Sidney Hall, nominated February 24 as Conservative candidate in Selkirk constituency, has withdrawn from the March 26 federal election campaign. Another convention to select a candidate will be held by the Conservatives.

In the second row, George Wilkinson and Harry Forster; in the third row, Fritz Hornan, Hugh Gibson, Cy Spaven, Larry Rands, Edgar McKenzie and Joe Hamilton. These men aggregate a total of 236 years of service in the company.

Begg Motors Celebrating

One of Victoria's leading and largest automobile firms, the Begg Motor Company Limited, is celebrating a record of 30 years' continuous business in Victoria. Founded in Vancouver in 1908, the Victoria branch was opened here in 1910, first occupying premises in the 1000 block, Fort Street, and later moving to the 900 block on View Street. In 1926, the present building was built at 865 Yates Street.

Step by step with the automotive industry, this British Columbia firm has grown and developed. Today the Begg Motor Company Limited numbers four branches, Vancouver, where the headquarters are maintained; Victoria, Duncan and Kelowna. In sales and service to the public the highest standards have consistently been maintained. The Victoria branch is the proud holder of the Chrysler Service Shield, the fifth of this nature to be awarded in Canada, issued by the corporation as confirmation of the fact that the repair shops and service departments conform to the rigid factory standards 100 per cent, both in skilled personnel and equipment.

LARGE STAFF

An indication of the stability of the firm is found in the record of the large staff employed. Approximately 60 in number, there are employees in the parts and service departments who boast 25 continuous years with the firm. At their head is General Manager J. M. Wood, who joined the firm in 1917. Previously he had been in business for himself, entering the automotive field in 1906, under the name of the Wood Motor Company. In those days he handled the Winton and the Detroit Electric automobiles, makes which have long since passed into the limbo of forgotten achievements. He took office as general manager in 1922, bringing to the firm a wealth of experience that reaches back into the early days of motoring. Associated with Mr. Wood is

James Evans, sales manager for Dodge and De Soto cars, and Tom Lumsden, who has been with the automobile business since 1919, sales manager for Plymouth and Chrysler cars.

PLEA FOR UNITY

Prime Minister Mackenzie

King's plea for preservation of Canadian unity in the election was simply a red herring to deceive the electors, Frank S. Cunliffe, Conservative candidate in Nanaimo riding, declared at a meeting in Sooke Community Hall last night.

Mr. King's plea, he said, was an admission there was no unity now.

How did he propose to secure it if returned to power. The Prime Minister's refusal to take part in a national government was a disgraceful action, he claimed. All other people were willing to forget political differences and join in the war effort.

Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., said Mr. King thought only of preserving his party's power and would promise anything to be returned.

E. V. Finland, M.P.P., declared a national nonparty government for the duration was the surest way of winning the war.

Chairman was Capt. P. W. de P. Taylor. F. G. Wade introduced Mr. Cunliffe.

Big Flood Loss In 10 Minutes At Berkeley, Cal.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A cloudburst sent three raging streams down on Berkeley, Calif., and caused damage estimated at $100,000 within 10 minutes today.

Harry Goodrich, city engineer of Berkeley, who estimated the damage, said the most severely struck sections "look as if they had been hit by an earthquake."

Already, through many parts of northern California, floods had forced some 3,000 persons from their homes and caused great property and crop damage.

At Berkeley, Strawberry Creek, running through the University of California campus, swept into the business section, tore stocks from shelves, overturned show-cases and carried an automobile on its crest for half a block.

The flash flood burst through the floors of four business buildings, near the north gate of the campus, and raised havoc with everything within four feet of the floor.

Another stream tore away a block of hillside, piling dirt over yards and against houses. A four-car garage was torn down and the slide crashed into a riding academy stable, injuring some of the 22 horses stabled there.

WARM RAINS
Torrential rains of unseasonable warmth poured down on the mountain snow, flushing it into already deluged valleys. Normally dry creek beds became torrents. Rivers burst their banks under the pressure.

At Sacramento, key point in the vast river network, an 1,800-foot weir was opened, diverting millions of gallons of water and flooding 80,000 acres of garden crops.

E. H. Fletcher, federal meteorologist at Sacramento, warned that a flood of "serious proportion" was upon the Sacramento and tributary Feather rivers. At Dunsmuir, on the upper stretches of the Sacramento, families moved from their homes.

Rivers and creeks in the rich Sacramento valley ran at flood stage, but prospects of fair weather brought hope of averting further serious consequences.

At various points slides blocked major rail and highway arteries, and high winds whipped heavy seas against shorelines.

State Department of Agriculture officials said California's rich agricultural industry suffered extensive damage, the amount of which could not be estimated now.

Finns Beat Off New Red Attacks

HELSINKI (AP)—Finnish bombing planes continue to strike at Russian communications and troop concentrations while land forces have repelled continued Red army attempts to follow up its advantage on the Karelian Isthmus, the Finnish army's daily communique said today.

The communique, however, gave but little indication of the extent of the isthmus fighting, which was believed to be raging undiminished in intensity.

Observers along the Norwegian border in the north said a new Soviet army offensive had reached Nauts, some 75 miles south of the Arctic coast, after driving the Finns back eight miles.

BUILDINGS BURNED
Every building in Nauts was ablaze at the end of a day's vicious fighting both in the air and on the ground.

The Finnish high command in only a brief reference to Russia's important drive on Vilpuri on the Karelian Isthmus said the "enemy suffered heavily" in fighting, in which the Finnish troops "fought defensive actions."

In this fighting, which occurred yesterday, several Russian tanks were destroyed, the Finns said, and "artillery activity was lively on both sides."

This was the least space given to the isthmus fighting in the daily communique for some time. Yesterday's statement disclosed that the Russians were threatening to encircle Vilpuri with a drive across the island-dotted and forested bay of Vilpuri.

HEAVY TOLL OF PLANES
Finnish sources announced today that 321 Russian planes have been shot down since the start of the war.

These sources estimated the total value of these planes at 2,500,000,000 Finnish marks ($42,500,000), or five times the Finnish financial losses due to bombings.

The Finns reported 1,310 Russian tanks have been destroyed or captured. Many were said to have been repaired and used by the Finns.

Still Hope for Minesweepers

Victoria shipyards still hope to secure a share of the government minesweeper contracts. It was indicated in shipbuilding quarters here today.

"We are informed from Ottawa that the question of minesweeper contracts is still under advisement and we have every reason to expect that some of the ships will be placed here," said E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, at the Parliament Buildings this morning.

The award of contracts here, he intimated, had been held up, not on the question of price, but of delivery.

"Our tender is still in and hasn't yet been turned down," said Herbert S. Hammill, secretary and director of the Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd. "There are still possibilities."

Norman A. Yarrow, managing director of Yarrow's Ltd., Esquimalt, who went east in connection with the minesweeper contracts, is still in the east.

Both Yarrow's Ltd. and the Victoria Machinery Depot of this city have contracts for the construction of three 1,000-ton steel sub-chasers each, and are proceeding with construction plans.

The two local firms also bid on the minesweepers, 28 of which comprised the original contract plans.

Contracts for six each have been placed with Vancouver firms, the Burrard Drydock Company Ltd. and the North Vancouver Ship Repairs Ltd.

Two ships went to the Prince Rupert Drydock Company.

A. C. Burdick of Victoria is president of the North Vancouver Ship Repairs Ltd. He is at present in Vancouver supervising plans for the commencement of building operations.

OTTAWA (CP)—An order-in-council awarding contracts for 14 mine sweepers to be built by British Columbia shipyards has been passed, it was announced today by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport. The ships each will cost around $620,000.

Six will be built at the Burrard Drydock, six at the North Vancouver Drydock and two at the Prince Rupert Drydock.

Contracts are being negotiated by the War Supply Board for approximately 1,600 army trucks with the Ford Motor Company of Canada and the General Motors Company of Canada. They have yet to be completed and sent to cabinet.

Large contracts for airplanes are in a similar position.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Donald M. Service, general manager of North Vancouver Ship Repairs Limited, said today Vancouver Iron Works Limited had been awarded a contract for construction of boilers for six minesweepers to be built by the North Vancouver firm for the War Supply Board.

"All construction work on the six minesweepers this company will build will be done in Vancouver, with the exception of the engines," Mr. Service said. "Contract for the engines has been let to Canadian Allis-Chalmers Limited in Toronto."

U.S. in Talks On Post-war Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today that conversations are under way between United States diplomats and foreign governments all over the world in the interest of preventing the forces of autocracy, regimentation and economic totalitarianism from gaining control after the end of the war.

Mr. Hull revealed that copies of his recent statements concerning contacts made with neutrals with a view of establishing a better world order after peace had been sent to all United States representatives abroad, so these diplomats could call them to the attention of the governments to which they are accredited.

Asked at his press conference whether this referred solely to capitals of neutral nations, Mr. Hull said it meant all capitals.

The action was taken, he said, with a view to preparations for postwar adjustments, economic and military. He emphasized the conversations had nothing to do with conditions during the war.

Protest U-Boat Attacks
STOCKHOLM (CP-Havas)—The Swedish Association of Merchant Marine Captains today called on the Swedish government to take steps together with other neutral states to terminate the war now being waged against neutral shipping.

The executive committee of the organization passed a resolution declaring neutral ships are being brutally destroyed while engaged in loyal fulfillment of existing trade pacts.

British-Canadian Group Goes to Aid Finnish Army

HELSINKI (AP)—The Helsinki radio announced tonight that the first Canadian volunteers had arrived in Finland to join the Finnish forces.

LONDON (CP)—About 500 British volunteers, including several Canadians, members of an international brigade organized to help Finland against Russia, were disclosed today to be already on their way to the northern war fronts.

This first contingent comprised about a quarter of the international force enlisted in Britain to give unofficial military aid to the Finns, supplementing undisclosed quantities of war materials which the British government has sent to Finland.

While the International Brigade has no official status in Britain, its members will wear battle dress like that of the British army with silver collar badges carrying the letters "I.B." for international. They are to use British war materials already in Finland.

British organizations are continuing to collect money, clothing, medical supplies, ambulances and fire engines for Finland. One organization announced today it had raised $688,000.

Nearly 500 Hungarian volunteers recently passed through London en route to Finland and another party is expected to reach here shortly.

TALK OF EXPEDITION
Meanwhile a movement for still more aid to the embattled Scandinavian nation gained momentum with some suggesting that an expeditionary force be sent.

Talk of such an expedition has been inspired by contention that the aid already given Finland is not sufficient to turn the tide of war against the Red army.

Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary, and Commander Oliver Locker-Lampson, Conservative member of Parliament, are among those who recently have urged large-scale assistance.

As envisaged by proponents, an expeditionary force would give the Finns relief in the form of trained manpower and at the same time strike at Russia, thus stalling any Soviet economic assistance to blockaded Germany. The reasoning here is that Russia would have few supplies to spare once she were matched against a well-armed and numerically strong foe.

With the western front still practically static, the Allies are said to be turning to a broad concept of strategy. Finland and the Middle East are looked on by the highest military and naval authorities as potential fields for flanking attacks on Russia and Germany.

NO EARLY PEACE
It is noteworthy that despite recent Finnish reverses circles close to the British Foreign Office believe war in Finland will be of "considerable duration."

Quarters which say an expeditionary force is under consideration declare the temper of the British people calls for measures more drastic than the dispatch of war planes, guns and ammunition, collection of funds for food, clothing and medical supplies and approval of British enlistments for the defence of Finland.

Mr. Locker-Lampson has pointed out what he terms the "imminent peril of Finland's overthrow" and proposed in the House of Commons that the government "free a substantial force (from the Allied armies) for instant service in Finland."

He introduced a resolution along that line Monday, calling for the allocation of a day to debate on it. Whether the request for debate would be granted was a question.

General Sir Hubert Gough, commander of the British Fifth Army in France during the last war, today urged Great Britain and France to go to war at once with Soviet Russia.

"Our open resistance to Russian aggression now will go a long way toward influencing Italian policy in our favor," General Gough argued in an article in the "English-Speaking World."

"This is a point of great importance, for the eventual attitude of Italy is still entirely uncertain," he said.

"A comparatively small use of our sea power could cut Russian communications in the Arctic. It would not call for an effort beyond our resources, while probably saving a much greater effort later."

LONDON (CP)—Board of Education estimates for 1940-41 submitted to the House of Commons today totaled $52,544,753 ($232,723,349), an increase of $302,537 over the amount spent on education in the fiscal year 1939-40.

To Equalize Pay Of War Services

After studying the recently announced schedule of naval pay and allowances sent to him by the Department of National Defence, R. W. Mayhew has recommended to the government that naval men's dependents should be on a comparatively equal status with dependents in other branches of the forces.

Revision upward of marriage allowance rates payable to seamen of noncommissioned ranks is made; also grants of marriage allowance to commissioned men who had not previously received same.

Seamen must allot a minimum of 15 days' pay a month to their wives. This added to the marriage allowance of 75 cents a day makes a minimum for a wife of $50.25.

The statement made that a seaman's wife gets only this amount whereas a soldier's wife gets $20 assigned pay and $35 allowance is unfair because most seamen send much more than 15 days' pay home, it was explained. Even if not, a sailor would have $27.75 for his own use. A soldier would have only $19.

A sailor may claim still an allowance for four children. Army and air force may only claim for two children. Navy marriage allowance rates for wives and children vary on the number of children from 75 cents a day for wife alone to $1.75 for a wife and four children or more.

A man, wife and four children receive in all $108. A family with two children receive $93. Since the outbreak of war 978 seamen recruited; 718 get $1.85 a day since they are experienced seamen selected from marine service.

Two hundred and sixty get $1.50. Of the entire ratings, the vast majority get $1.85, because they have required experience, and among married men practically all of them get $1.85.

Of approximate 200 married men in rating class who are getting $1.50 a day the comparison is not unfavorable to seamen, because while his total temporarily for man and wife, $67.50 a month as compared with $74 a month, he is really an apprentice and will get $1.85 a day within six months.

Where the husband is in the army or air force, the maximum for a private is $1.35 a day, plus $35 a month for a wife and $12 for each child, or $98 a month. This is the maximum he can claim. A navy man with wife and one child gets total of $86. Navy regulations in addition have been broadened for allowance to be paid to widowed mothers and certain other direct relatives. The rates are established so that there will be equitable treatment of dependents with those in army.

Residents Leave Verviers, Belgium
BRUSSELS (AP)—The newspaper Le Soir today said 1,000 residents of Verviers, Belgian industrial city 12 miles from the German border, had abandoned their homes after government warnings.

The newspaper said the city of 46,000 had been told bluntly by the defence and health ministers that it would be impossible to remove the population after danger had materialized.

(Monday, Luxembourg, to the southeast of Verviers, reported large German troops movements).

Attack on Gandhi
PATNA, India (CP-Reuters)—A shoe was hurled at Mohandas K. Gandhi in the railway station at Lilloach, six miles from Calcutta, when he was leaving for Patna last night; it was learned today. The shoe missed Gandhi but hit his secretary.

Nazi Guarantee Offered Rumania If More Oil Sent

BUCHAREST (AP)—Authoritative quarters said today Germany had offered to guarantee Rumania's borders in return for huge increases in oil, wheat and other raw material shipments to the Reich.

These sources said the plan was submitted while the Rumanian cabinet considered issuing a royal decree for virtual civil mobilization to accompany military mobilization already undertaken in part.

Acceptance of the German plan, it was said, would oblige Rumania to abandon her plan for civil mobilization and send at least 1,000,000 of her 1,400,000 men under arms back to their jobs in fields and factories.

The German plan also was said to include a promise to prevail on Hungary, Bulgaria and Soviet Russia to abandon their territorial claims on Rumania and sign nonaggression pacts with her.

Germany was reported ready to sponsor a new railway agreement between Rumania and Hungary to make it easier to transport vital supplies to the Reich.

Authoritative quarters said it was extremely doubtful whether Rumania would accept the plan because the price—a virtual Nazi monopoly of her exports—was considered far too high.

The proposed civil mobilization order would give the government control of all industry similar to the plan already in operation in Turkey.

Dr. Karl Clodius, Germany's economic expert, postponed a visit to Bucharest until next week. Observers said this was to give Rumania time to study the German plan.

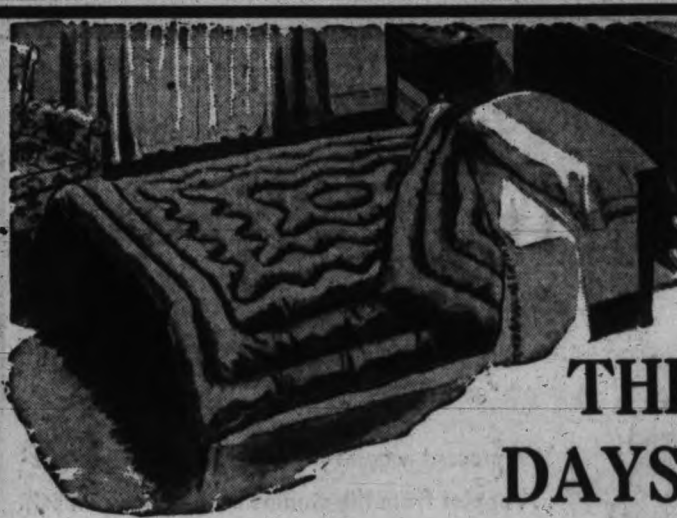

The recent favorable trend of French and British relations with Rumania, wherein the Allies resumed shipping raw materials, warplanes and armaments to Rumania, was seen as another bar to the German proposal.

Meanwhile, Rumania was scheduled to call an additional 200,000 reservists to the colors March 1, swelling the army to 1,600,000—virtually general mobilization.

OIL FROM RUSSIA
VARNA, Bulgaria (CP-Havas)—Russian oil destined for Germany began to flow into Bulgaria today as the 13,500-ton Soviet tanker Tuapse started discharging her cargo here.

The oil is the first instalment to be delivered by Bulgaria of a large amount contracted for by the Reich under its recent trade agreement with Russia. German technicians have been busy recently preparing to build storage tanks at Varna and at the Danube River port of Ruschuk, linked by rail with Varna.

When the Tuapse arrived at Varna last night it turned out to be too big to berth and was forced to anchor in the open roadstead. This morning two small Italian tankers chartered by the German government, the Torpedo and Teleno, were put to work transferring the oil ashore. They may also serve as temporary storage tanks for part of the oil until permanent tanks are built ashore.

Current Events Club Hears Refugee

Mrs. Meta Kraus-Fessel was the speaker at the Current Events Club in the hall on Monday. She spoke of her experiences in Berlin where she was a social worker, and of the many difficulties encountered in this work, the chief obstacle being the scarcity of money which was necessary in obtaining food and clothing for the children. But after negotiations with the government, officials succeeded in obtaining a small grant. At that time the German people had no hatred for the Jews, who had been settlers in Germany for 2,000 years, said Mrs. Kraus-Fessel. She went on to speak of her own personal experiences relating the story of her arrest and subsequent pardon and confiscation of her books and papers, after which she left Germany for Vienna, where she lived for five years. Miss Cleo Westrum sang two songs, accompanied by Mrs. Paddon.

Brassard, Finnerty Road, Gordon Head, Victoria, and the late Mrs. Brassard.

Rev. Father Martin performed the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, with a coronet in her hair, fastened with a single rose. Her bouquet was composed of orange blossoms. During the ceremony the bride couple stood beneath a floral arch.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's father, where about 100 guests were received by the bride and groom, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Cruise and the Misses Cruise. ## Tells How To Be Chic Though 'Chunky'

HOLLYWOOD (CP)—Elsa Maxwell, who makes a comfortable living arranging social functions, for a price, knows "how to be chic though chunky."

Miss Maxwell, who is definitely on the buxom side, holds no brief for her stout sisters who are ashamed of their girth.

"If you're fat," she says, "don't sink into a room like a criminal, with abject apology even for living written all over your face. Be self-assertive, bold, enter with authority and make the whole room yours."

To take a room by storm, she goes on, it's necessary to be well dressed, whether your figure is expansive or otherwise.

"Don't wear tight clothes," she says, "for they do not slim. They flatten by calling attention to the lines of the figure. Svelte the waist to form fit but let skirts fall in soft, loose folds. Cover up unpleasant parts like the upper arm, but show the wrists, which are invariably slender."

Boyish Bob Back in Style Owing to War

TORONTO (CP)—The war will bring the boyish bob back to women's hair fashions after seven years of oblivion, the annual Hairdressers' Convention and exhibition was told here yesterday.

A return of this close-cropped, sporty style will be general in Canada next year, Bernard O. Snowden of Windsor predicted.

"War is bringing a return of tailored styles in clothes and with them come tailored hair styles," he forecast.

'Y' Asked to Set Up Hostess Houses

WINNIPEG (CP)—Miss C.

Louise Gates of Toronto, general secretary of the National Council of the Young Women's Christian Association, said here today that the Dominion government had asked the association to consider setting up hostess houses at the 80 airfields to be established under the British Commonwealth air training scheme. Women relatives visiting the fields would be able to find lodging at reasonable rates.

Nanaimo Tag Days

NANAIMO—Tag days for Nanaimo organizations occupied much of the time of Nanaimo city council. Ten "applications" of local organizations were granted by the legislative committee, to be scattered through the summer. In January, the Finnish Red Cross had made application to hold a tag in Nanaimo. It was not granted owing to the fact that just previously the Canadian Red Cross, Nanaimo Branch, had held a tag here to aid Finland. The council ordered the legislative committee to make further investigation, and if the Finnish Red Cross has a local here its application will be reconsidered.

The police will have power to stop any tagging where noise or other disturbances are caused on the street, and no taggers may canvas business houses or firms without a special permit from the mayor or chief of police.

T. Rutherford, secretary of the City Relief Workers' Association, wrote protesting against the manner of spending funds supplied by the provincial government on the new arena being erected. He contended the sum of $30,000 appropriated was meant for men on relief and for men in urgent need of relief. He asked for an investigation. The council will answer that an investigation is already under way.

Varied Service Promotes Welfare of Families

Association's Reports Show Scope of Practical Help; Dr. J. H. Riddell Speaks on "Stabilizing the Family"

There is not enough interest shown in courtship—the first stage or step in the erection of a family which is the basis of civilization.

Courtship is a fumbling way for a girl and a boy to find out their suitability for marriage. It is worth while. Don't let us make fun of it. Don't let us push it out on the street.

These were the words of Dr. J. H. Riddell, a pioneer teacher in sociology of western Canada, who graduated from the University of Toronto in 1890, in addressing the annual meeting of the Family Welfare Association in the Y.W.C.A. last night.

The president of the association, J. H. Frank, was chairman for the meeting. Reports on the year's work of the association were presented and members of the board of directors were re-elected.

A well qualified speaker on the subject, "Forces That Are Tending to Stabilize the Family," Dr. Riddell was well received by his audience.

He dealt at length on the family as being one of the most honored institutions in civilization. "Society began its wide, varied, complex organization with the organization of the family," Dr. Riddell declared.

The family was more deeply entrenched in society today than ever before.

After courtship, the second stage in the erection of a family was the permission stage. Permission had to be given by the government before a marriage ceremony could take place. In dealing briefly with this step Dr. Riddell was sorry that health certificates were not necessary in securing a marriage license.

Then came the actual marriage ceremony and the living together of the couple which had possibilities of being a glorious union, the speaker said.

There were many difficulties to be hurdled in living together. Troubles of the ancestry of the couple crept in; economic problems also showed themselves, which called for a need of good sound common sense. There was sentimentalism, temperament, jealousy ready to destroy the union, also gastronomic in some cases and perhaps religion.

"But 85 per cent of our families live throughout their lives as real families," the speaker concluded. Appreciation of Dr. Riddell's address was voiced from the floor by Dr. Olga Jardine and the chairman.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

An extensive and pictorial report of the work of the association was given by Miss Dorothy A. Yates in her annual report as general secretary.

There were 104 cases open at the beginning of 1939. Four hundred and sixty-one applications were received during the year, 343 were given service or relief and 118 were advised where help could be obtained. One hundred and thirty-six of the applications were not known to the association before.

Under direct service cases there were 87 reports on cases to other agencies, 26 investigations made for out-of-town agencies and 10 inquiries forwarded for out-of-town agencies.

Problems presented in the 461 direct applications included 77 cases of unemployment, 68 cases of health problems, 47 cases of personality difficulties (marital, feeble-mindedness and anti-social adult behaviour), 43 cases of insufficient earnings, 37 cases of marital discord, 33 cases of non-residence, 29 cases of child behaviour, 25 cases of need for clothing, 19 cases of old age, eight cases of single unemployed transients, seven cases of delay of dependents' allowances, six cases of desertion, six cases of unmarried mothers, four cases of non-support, four cases of investigations for Dependents' Allowance Board, three cases of alcoholism and 45 miscellaneous cases.

Visits to clients during the year numbered 1,339, the report continued. There were 653 visits on behalf of clients to doctors, lawyers, teachers, etc. There were 1,550 office interviews, 643 letters and 4,583 telephone calls.

Sixty-three adults and 143 children were given a two weeks' holiday at the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp.

The secretary expressed appreciation to a number of agencies of the city for help rendered by them during the year. They included the Community Chest, the Children's Aid Society, the Victorian Order of Nurses, the City Welfare Department and many more.

SOLDIERS' FAMILIES AIDED

Mr. Frank's presidential report stated that since the outbreak of war the association has been particularly at the service of soldiers' families.

"Our financial needs for both the association and the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp for 1939 were adequately met by the Community Chest, to whom we express our best thanks," the report read.

The financial report was given in detail by the honorary treasurer, N. F. Ferris, who had held that position in the association since its inception in 1933.

Directors returned to office for three-year terms were Mrs. F. Barber Starkey, J. H. Frank, John Goldie, Joseph McKenna, Dr. J. H. Moore and E. E. Winslow. Charles Chivers was chosen to fill a one-year vacancy on the board. The officers of the association will be named by the board at its next meeting.

LEGION BRANCHES EXCEEDED QUOTAS

Canadian Legion branches outside Victoria subscribing for the legion war services fund over-reached their objectives in their recent two-week campaigns, it was reported yesterday by J. A. Law-Beattie, zone representative for the island.

North Saanich Branch had the finest record. This unit voluntarily raised its quota from $100 to $500, and succeeded in collecting $802.

Other branches doubled the quotas they were asked to get. Malahat raised $200, its quota being half of that. The Prince Edward Branch at Langford, whose quota was $50, collected $118. The Sooke branch doubled its quota of $50.

The drive is officially closed now, but branches are remaining open to receive promised donations.

concert hall at the rear of the Civic Auditorium main stage. They demanded removal of a huge flag which screened them from the speakers in the auditorium.

Eventually Mr. Lapointe and the Prime Minister went to the rear of the stage, had the screen removed, showed themselves and received an ovation. The screen was left drawn back and Mr. Lapointe proceeded without interruption.

QUEBEC VICTORY

Recalling the Liberal victory in Quebec October 26 last, Mr. Lapointe said he was going through every province to "preach the same doctrine which achieved the Quebec victory."

Reports of speeches (by Conservative Leader Manion had indicated a "bitterness" he could not understand, Mr. Lapointe said.

"Why so much bitterness at this time? Fair criticism is helpful but abuse and bitter language cannot hope to unite a country or help us through our present crisis," said the minister.

Canada had entered the war of her own free will because "we don't want to see the sons of mankind enslaved," Mr. Lapointe said.

Charges by Dr. Manion that Canadians had gone overseas without adequate clothing and had suffered illness for that reason, had been proved untrue, Mr. Lapointe said.

The Conservative leader's criticism would be useful to Germany's English-speaking radio propagandist, "Lord Haw-Haw," he said. To make such charges without foundation was "partisanism gone mad," the minister said. "But these are not the times when an election can be won by partisanship of that kind. Opportunity never knocks at the door of a knocker."

Prime Minister King left this morning for Saskatoon, where he will spend tonight. From that city he will go to Prince Albert, Sask., where on Thursday he will be chosen as candidate in that riding which he has represented for 15 years. Immediately after the Prince Albert meeting he will return to Ottawa.

Maitland Says C.C.F. Makes Hitler Cheer

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—R. L. Maitland, K.C., British Columbia Conservative leader, seeking support for Hon. R. J. Manion and the national government the federal Conservative leader has said he will form if elected, told an audience here last night that "every vote the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation gets in this election will bring a cheer from Hitler and a cheer from Stalin." He said he had produced at the last session of the Legislature a record of activities of C.C.F. leaders which showed they "delivered speech after speech calculated to hinder our war effort."

Mr. Maitland said "Dr. (Lyle) Telford, Independent, Vancouver East, and Mrs. (Dorothy) Steeves, North Vancouver, marched with Communists... in Vancouver in 1936."

Recently, he continued, he had read a news dispatch from Moscow praising the C.C.F. Party in British Columbia.

Mr. Maitland spoke in support of W. K. Essling, Conservative candidate for Kootenay West.

Patricia Bay Work For Vancouver Firm

OTTAWA (CP)—Purchases by the War Supply Board for the week ended February 24 totaled $1,064,238, according to an announcement by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport.

Of this sum, $371,062 was spent on clothing, which included 784,000 pairs of woolen socks for Canada's enlisted men. Few out-standing contracts were let during the week, but total orders were 374, including one of $79,885 to Bennett and White Construction Co. Ltd., Vancouver, for construction of temporary accommodation at the R.C.A.F. station at Patricia Bay.

KIWANIS HEAR ARENA PLAN

Speaking for the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the proposed arena plan, T. Watkins received the support of the Kiwanis Club of Victoria after a short address to club members at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Watkins spoke of the proposed site, the equipment which would be installed and the way in which officials in charge of the drive for funds would conduct their campaign.

"The building will be modern in every respect. Ice equipment, seating accommodation for between 2,000 and 5,000, and facilities making it possible to present sports meets, ice carnivals and symphony concerts, will be installed. We ask that Kiwanis contribute their services to the drive for this sports centre," the speaker said.

William F. Tickle reported on the success of the "Kiwanis Kapers of 1940," the annual Kiwanis show, and moved a vote of thanks to members of the orchestra and the artists who took part in the show. The vote was seconded and Kiwanis were loud in their praise of the way in which the show was handled. The press and the public were thanked for their co-operation and response to the show.

A. D. King introduced E. Ensley, a new member of Kiwanis.

E. H. Cabellu was in charge of the program at today's luncheon, while D. Spence, president, was in the chair.

KIPLING SOCIETY

At the monthly meeting of the Kipling Society held on Tuesday evening an appeal was made from the central society, London, England, for gifts and donations of knitted goods for the men of the destroyer H.M.S. Kipling, which was recently launched by Mrs. Bambridge, Kipling's daughter, and which bears a plaque of the author donated by the central and branch societies. The appeal met with a generous response from the members, and a knitting circle has been organized.

Mrs. W. C. Mann gave an interesting resume of one of Kipling's well-known dog stories, "The Woman in His Life," after which a Kipling quiz competition was enjoyed. Mrs. M. Barclay's group winning by a narrow margin.

Leading dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, Rose Bampton sang a popular swing song on Tuesday for the first time in her life. She did it at the request of a disabled veteran as she made a singing tour of Christie Street Hospital, Toronto. "This is not my specialty, of course," Miss Bampton apologized before singing "Oh, Johnny." In fact, it's the first time I've tried it. She is shown here as she chatted with Pte. Gordon Drury of the Black Watch, from Montreal.

DUTCH BATTERIES FIRE ON PLANES

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Foreign planes flying high over the Netherlands, on the direct air route between Germany and Great Britain, drew heavy anti-aircraft gunfire early today without apparent results.

The chief of the Amsterdam air defence district, Lieut. General Van Ermel Scherer, said 10 planes were fired on, but were so high that the possibility of hits was small.

Almost daily affairs since war started, aerial violations of Netherlands neutrality have resulted in at least 11 protests to Berlin and four to London.

For more than five hours, ending at 3 a.m., Amsterdam batteries blazed away intermittently at the "unwelcome visitors, as they had done also on Monday and Saturday nights.

For the second time, an unexploded shell ripped through a house from garret to cellar. Last Saturday, a schoolhouse in the heart of the city was damaged; today, a three-inch projectile crashed through three floors of a residence near the beds of sleeping residents.

The German news agency claimed "German observers" had established "beyond the possibility of mistake" that British planes were flying over the Netherlands to and from Germany.

(In London the air ministry declined comment on this German charge. In unofficial circles, however, it was recalled that only a week ago a German plane went so far as to fire on a Netherlands plane which tried to intercept it over Netherlands territory.)

By PETE SALLAWAY

LESTER PATRICK, Victoria's famous hockey mogul, has been referred to in many glowing terms during the course of his brilliant career in the world's fastest indoor sport, and now he has a new title, "Greatest Gambler in Hockey." Writing in the New York News, Gene Ward has the following to say about Patrick:

"There are fellows around who have made a 4-star success of their careers taking chances, and they incite our imagination just as did the reckless, leather-faced individual who dextrously dealt cards at us from the covers of Wild-West magazines in our boyhood days. At least, when we think of British Columbia's Lester Patrick and his career in hockey that's what comes to our mind. Mebbe this mind-picture seems too dramatically painted. We don't think so—for Take-a-chance hockey, the Patrick way, has just produced the gauchiest undefeated streak in ice-skimming history and now the tumult and shouting has died people want to know 'how come?'"

"With the plains of western Ontario flashing past Jack Frost-mosaic windows recently we received a nutshell answer. It was a silver-haired dining-car steward speaking—a colored hockey fan who knew the game backwards and front."

"That Lester Patrick is one smart man. He'll take a chance any old time."

"The old colored man knew all about it. He refreshed our memory on how, last spring, the Rangers had landed one game away from the Stanley Cup finals. Of how they played a tremendous thrill-packed series with Boston and were hailed a great team even in defeat."

"But he wasn't satisfied," said the steward, "no, sir, no Lester."

"And he continued to tell us how the team went into training last fall with two new rookies and a brand new attack. Of course, we knew all this but hearing it from one of Canada's thousands of fans served to clarify it."

"One of the outstanding phases of this new attack, putting it in axiomatic form, is this: Always put the pressure on when a man short (meaning a man in the penalty box). A striking example of how well this has worked out was shown in Toronto when the Blueshirts ran their streak to all-time record proportions. With Muzz Patrick in the house and the Leafs set for a score-tying thrust, the Rangers suddenly struck. Four forwards were sent into action—Phil Watson scored—the Leafs collapsed and the game was clinched. Until just recently, when Boston started to copy these tactics, no other team in the league had attempted to take the offensive when a man short—too dangerous. Sometimes the Rangers will play orthodox hockey for a space—defence men back and forwards checking

National Ski Tourney Opens

CALGARY (CP)—At least 75 competitors have entered the Canadian ski tournament which opens at Banff tomorrow. The actual number of entries for the 11 events has reached 174.

Lewis Davis of Vancouver, winner of the combined downhill and slalom championship last year, has canceled his entry. Davis has been working in California lately.

Vancouver, Wells, B.C., Princeton, Kimberley, Edmonton, Banff, Ottawa, Lake Louise and St. Sauveur, Que., were among the points from which week-end entries were received.

Johnny Leeds, one-eyed jumper from Copper Mountain, B.C., who has set distance records on various hills in western Canada and the Pacific Northwest, was one of the more prominent skiers to send in his name.

OTHER ENTRIES

Others included Bert Irwin of Princeton, recent winner of the Pacific Northwest slalom championship and last year's western Canada titlist; Bill Irwin, his brother; Corey Hegseth and Otto Bravnd of Wells; Alf Johannsen, four-event man from Kimberley; Stan Body, Art Hullah, Einar Ellingrud, Daisy Bourdon and Joan Cranswick, Vancouver; John Bird and J. D. Anderson, Banff; and Lorna Meagher of Montreal.

In addition to these were a number of juniors from Banff, Lake Louise, Vancouver and Princeton. The junior entries total 46.

Edmonton's representation so far totals five—R. Jackson and Bud Clarke in jumping, Norman Rault in downhill and slalom, Bill Halburton in four events, and Pete Vadja in downhill and slalom.

Many of the competitors are already at Banff training for the meet and are enjoying excellent snow conditions.

WESTS PRACTICE

Anglers Make Merry

When the "March Lion" is just about to blow in with its usual roar and there is a feeling of coming spring in the air, the palms of the salmon-fishing folk begin to itch for the feel of the old rod and their ears are already straining for the music of a spinning reel that means "A Strike!" There is a yearning in their hearts to once again cruise the open water in their boats to enjoy the thrill of battle, breathe in the fresh salt air and feel the warmth of the midday sun on their winter-pallid skins.

That they are ready to start all over again when they left off last year when the last of the springs departed from Saanich Inlet waters, was clearly indicated last night at a gay gathering of 70 members of the Chinook Club of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association in Spencer's dining-room for their annual banquet and meeting.

These members, like all the rest of Brentwood's fishing army, will probably have to wait a few months yet before the "good fishing" sign is hung out, but as one member put it, "When the weather starts to turn spring-like the old angling urge gets a strong hold on you."

After the members had done away with all business and placed jovial Chuck Kinlock in the president's chair for the 1940 season and elected other officers, a rollicking program of entertainment was presented to climax a successful evening.

'CLASS FISHERMEN'

The members of the club are the "class fishermen" in the association. They are the fishers who have landed big fish and have buttons of various denominations to prove it. The club is known as the "fun group" within the association, arranging entertainments of various kinds.

"With your co-operation we'll put 1940 over in a big way," were the words used by Kinlock in accepting the chairman's post. He succeeded Tommy W. MacPherson, past president of the association.

Alan Pendray was elected vice-president by unanimous vote and Bill "Smiley" Rowe was returned to the office of secretary for his fourth term. When nominations were opened for secretary, there was a chorus: "Rowe." Before Bill had time to protest he was back in office.

Frank "Doc" Smith, MacPherson and Skipper A. H. F. Steele were named trustees. George Silburn, a natural born comedian who had the members in stitches with his comical facial expressions during the entertainment, was named entertainment committee chairman, making a promise there would be lots more of it this year. George "Joker" Patton was returned as competition committee chairman and the finance committee is composed of Reg Fleming, Tommy Ward and George I. Warren.

MACPHERSON'S REPORT

During the evening, which was probably utilized by many to relate tall stories about angling duels, MacPherson, retiring president, gave a summary of the past year's activities of the club. The club's membership was 131; there was a balance of $51 in the bank; a successful club competition was held; several entertainments were arranged; a committee under Tommy Ward constructed and moored a float at Quarry Bay for the use of all inlet fishermen; the retiring chief's report told. He thanked all officers and committees for their fine support during his term in office, making special reference to the hard work of Secretary Rowe.

He presented certificates which showed members had caught but one fish.

Harry Woolston, president of the association, presented the cup for the woman member catching the largest fish of the year to Mrs. Roy Elwood, and the men's cup to Tommy MacPherson.

Those who contributed to the entertainment were Ben Derry, Silburn, Bob White and Len Howe, who contributed two smart acts; Mrs. Silburn, Cecil Heaton and Mrs. T. Ward. A most laughable feature was the baby contest, in which Messrs. MacPherson, Smith, Heaton and Fleming were made up to represent babies and had a race to see who could drain nipped baby bottles with milk first. MacPherson won.

TRIO HOOP GAMES

BILLED TONIGHT

Three hoop fixtures will be presented this evening at the High School gym, including an island elimination match between Shawanigan girls will be on hand to continue their championship series against Bob Whyte's Victoria Adverts in the intermediate B girls' section. This will be the evening's final attraction. The Shawanigan girls won by four points at the up-island centre, but as Adverts will be playing on a familiar floor tonight they are favored to emerge the winner.

Opening the show at 7 will be a game between Palm Dairy and Cardinals, women's squads.

The second feature will see Eight Aces, intermediate A boys' city champions for the second straight year, battle West Road. In a recent exhibition game the Aces were victors.

The Nova Scotia senior hockey title.

Wolves are expected to present the only serious threat to the Cape Bretoners in the section, as New Brunswick is not considered to have a team of the calibre of Saint John Beavers, winners of the Maritime crown last year.

There appears an outside possibility that the harness racing folks might get together and take over Gulfstream as a winter home for that bucolic sport. They are known to have made cautious inquiries.

Racing World Pulling for Seabiscuit Win Saturday

Boyd Winner Of Tame Bout

SEATTLE (AP)—Wild Bill Boyd, the one-time navy heavyweight champion whom Jack Dempsey took under his wing, won a decision over Henry Cooper of New York in a colorless 10-round fight here last night.

The only clear advantage for either fighter came in the final minute after Boyd doubled Cooper up with a stiff right to the mid-section, and then followed it up with a barrage to the head and body. There were no knockdowns, and neither fighter was able to gain an edge in the poke-for-poke first nine rounds. Boyd weighed 188; Cooper 192. Cooper won a decision over Boyd in their only previous meeting. Henry Woods, Yakima negro, won an unpopular eight-round decision over Johnny Fasano, San Francisco, in a semifinal bout which might easily have been scored as a draw. Woods weighed 144 and Fasano 149. They split even in two previous fights in California.

CLEANER PUNCHING

Woods won the decision by cleaner body punching while Fasano was inclined to hang on in the clinches, although landing punches frequently.

Toby Crooks, 130, Vancouver, B.C., started the evening with a four-round decision over Santos Hugo, 132, of Manila. The Canadian gained his clear margin on two knockdowns in the final round.

Only Dust On $1,000,000 Track

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Horning, a star-eyed young man who sank a cool $1,000,000 of his and his mother's money into the construction of a horse race track in a community where two tracks already flourished, still is wishing he could get the first nickel of it back.

Any sunny day Jack can leave his home on Hibiscus Isle and in a 30-minute drive reach his beautiful, bankrupt racing property. There it stands—Gulfstream Park—its great steel grandstand yawning emptily, its splendid track unmarked by hoof prints, and its long lane of stables giving no odor of horse.

So far as young Horning or anyone else knows, Gulfstream Park will remain a ghost track indefinitely. Only a little over a year ago it opened amid fanfare, before the biggest crowd ever to attend the opening of a track in Florida, in a game but hopeless opposition to Hialeah.

Friends of Horning had tried to dissuade him, but he hadn't listened. Gulfstream struggled through the third day, on which the mutual pay fell to $81,922, and then Jack's bubble collapsed. The mutual "bankroll" was whisked away, Horning didn't have any money left to operate the plant, and since then Gulfstream has slumbered.

So long as Hialeah and Tropical Park continue to operate as prosperously as now, horsemen can see no chance for Horning's folly.

Contrary to the belief of some, Gulfstream can get any racing dates it wishes, if and when it is ready to operate. But Gulfstream's patronage would have to come from the same Miami area as the other two, and there's no use having dates if you haven't customers.

There appears an outside possibility that the harness racing folks might get together and take over Gulfstream as a winter home for that bucolic sport. They are known to have made cautious inquiries.

WILL MEET DAVIS—Saturday night's wrestling card at the Army and Navy Arena should produce one of the finest bouts ever seen here when Billy Hanson, Salt Lake City, above, tackles that "bad man" from California, Willie Davis. Promoter Brooks stated today he was trying to secure Chief Little Wolf for the same show and if successful will run a double main event. First bout at 8.30.

Seabiscuit must carry 130 pounds in the mile and one-quarter grid. That was the weight he carried against Stagedhand, which packed only 100. But in 1937, Seabiscuit carried 114 pounds and Rosemont 124. There probably is no Stagehand to worry about this year, however. Featherweight candidates, at this date, don't seem to figure.

TABLE TENNIS

MacDonald Electric table tennis team consolidated their position in the top berth in the first division race last night when they defeated the lowly Ajax, 26 to 10, in games at the Crystal Garden.

Renfrew Brothers retained their second-berth position with a 22 to 14 win over Fitzer and N. X. Liberty Cafe continued their winning streak with a 25 to 11 triumph over Murphy Electronics.

Laurie Greenwood of the Cafe squad and Wilmo Brown Cave of the Macs had the best playing records for the evening, each bagging eight straight singles victories. Ab Renfrew of Renfrew Brothers had seven singles victories.

Results follow:
Liberty Cafe—L. Greenwood 8, H. Jarvis 5, T. Chattell 6, R. Rigby 4; Chattell and Jarvis 1, Rigby and Greenwood 1.

Murphy Electronics—D. Robinson 2, E. Seed 6, W. Robinson 5, A. Peables 2; W. Robinson and Peables 2, D. Robinson and Seed 0.

Pitzer and Nex—W. Cotton 4, V. Henry 2, R. Dawson 5, A. Walker 1; Walker and Cotton 1, Dawson and Henry 1.

Renfrew Bros.—A. Renfrew 7, A. Elworthy 4, B. Mason 3, D. Ketcheson 6; Renfrew and Ketcheson 1, Mason and Elworthy 1.

MacDonald Electric—W. Brown-Cave 8, V. Tully 5, A. Lynch 3, H. Craven 6; Brown-Cave and Tully 2, Craven and Lynch 2.

Ajax—Miss B. Mackay 4, Mrs. Heppell 1, Holstein-Rathlou 4, A. Seed 1; Heppell and Mackay 0, Seed and Holstein-Rathlou 0.

HEAVY OUTSIDE ENTRY FOR GOLF

Eighty-seven outside entries have been received to date for the 12th annual Empress golf tournament, opening at the Colwood and Victoria clubs Monday. It was announced today by J. K. Hodges, manager of the Empress Hotel.

Visitors will be here for the tournament and the social functions connected with it from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Bellingham, Astoria, Olympia, Anacortes, Montreal, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary, Moose Jaw, Lethbridge, Kelowna and Vancouver.

Among the golfers arriving at the Empress yesterday were George Major and A. C. Necker

Veteran of Track Faces Tough Task

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The rosiest dream of all is that Seabiscuit will win the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap and go down in turf annals as the biggest money winner of all time—but if it will take more than dreams to get the 'Biscuit across the wire winner Saturday.

Nearly everybody is pulling for Seabiscuit to win. People who bet against the gallant old campaigner last week stood and shouted when he burst across the finish line the victor. They'll do it again this week if a Seabiscuit triumph comes to pass.

The fact remains, however, that the star of the C-S. Howard Stable failed by a nose to win the Santa Anita classic in 1937 from Rosemont, and failed again in 1938, by another nose, to Stagehand.

ASKING A LOT

It seems like asking a lot to believe he can do it in 1940. As courageous and sturdy as he is, Seabiscuit, it would appear, can't be any better than he was two years ago; particularly after an injury that put him on the shelf for almost a year.

Seabiscuit must carry 130 pounds in the mile and one-quarter grid. That was the weight he carried against Stagehand, which packed only 100. But in 1937, Seabiscuit carried 114 pounds and Rosemont 124.

There probably is no Stagehand to worry about this year, however. Featherweight candidates, at this date, don't seem to figure.

There are others of known merit, to which the 'Biscuit must give weight, including Heffley at 114 pounds, Specify 116, Whichever 114, Don Mike 112, and Can't Wait, which must be reckoned with at a mere 108 and a liking for the distance.

There is Kayak II at 129, the solid candidate to repeat his 1939 win in the Santa Anita. But a Kayak victory over Seabiscuit wouldn't be so hard to take because he's in the Howard family.

Cude Returns to New Haven Squad

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—New Haven Eagles announced last night they had regained Wilf Cude, their goalie whose departure a month ago coincided with New Haven's fall out of first place in the International American Hockey League east-east division.

Cude, taken up by Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, where he played until suffering an injury from which he has now recovered, will replace Claude Bourque, whose wrenched knee forced the Eagles to play their last three games with borrowed goalies.

of Moose Jaw, Sask., who make a practice of coming here to the annual tournament.

Healthy Outlook In Western Canada

W. H. Funston, president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of Canada Limited, Hamilton, Ont., struck an optimistic note on commenting on business prospects while in the city yesterday.

He noticed an upward swing of business in western Canada and a healthy outlook all across Canada, pointing out that official figures showed the value of the 1939 Canadian crops over the previous year amounted to almost $100,000,000, most of it now coming into circulation.

Funston, who keeps in close touch with business conditions in British Columbia, thinks that Okanagan growers will be able to dispose of their entire apple crop, but expressed regret that prices were not more remunerative.

Prospects in the rubber industry were never better, he said. "Transportation is going to be accelerated and more trucks than ever will be pressed into service. Everyone realizes the universal use of big trucks and artillery in our mechanized forces and by our air forces. The use of rubber tires on farm machinery has sharply increased during the past few years," he said.

"War demands for increased production will increase this business. With all these extra demands, the industry expects to be operating at capacity for many months to come," Mr. Funston declared.

Registered at the Empress Hotel with Mr. Funston were J. A. Livingstone, sales manager at Hamilton, and H. J. Morrow, district manager at Vancouver. While in the city yesterday Mr. Funston made a number of calls on local businessmen.

It is understood Victoria's share would be between $8,000 and $10,000, Oak Bay's $2,000 and Esquimalt's several hundred dollars.

Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer, pointed out to the council such a unit would save the municipality 50 per cent on its present cost of isolation patients, reducing the per diem fee from $8 to $4.

The plan received the unanimous support of the council, whose members felt it would give a much-needed added protection against the dangers of epidemics.

British Sailors Present Concert
A concert presented by visiting British sailors under the auspices of the Connaught Seaman's Institute Ladies' Guild, was held in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce last night. The concert was presented to raise additional funds for the institute.

The program was conducted almost entirely by the men of the Royal Navy, and the large audience showed their appreciation by loud applause.

The program comprised selections and novelty numbers by the harmonica band, under the leadership of Leading Seaman Danny Donovan; tenor solos by P.O. Davey; "The Market Bag," a sketch by P.O. Ernest Oakes, L. S. Donovan and L. S. Weaver; monologues by A.B. Jarvis; "No News," a sketch by P.O. Oakes and A.B. Berry; sword swinging by Marine Cussens; a mystery act by L. S. Weaver and P.O. Oakes, and "Audrey and Mary," a sketch by L.S. Donovan and L.S. Weaver. P.O. Oakes was master of ceremonies.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Vernon Thomson, president of the Guild, who was assisted by Mrs. F. MacKenzie and Mrs. J. Quinn.

At the close of the concert, the members of the naval concert party and their lady friends were entertained to refreshments by the Guild, Mrs. J. W. Cashmore and Mrs. R. Shanks convening the refreshments.

CITY MANAGER FOR VICTORIA
To the Editor:—As recently reported in the press, the Victoria Ratepayers' Association has gone on record in support of a city manager plan of municipal government for Victoria, and hopes to arouse sufficient interest among the electors to carry a plebiscite for its adoption.

A petition signed by 5 per cent of qualified voters is necessary to secure the submission of such plebiscite, and if a majority of those voting approve the by-law it becomes the duty of the council to appoint a municipal manager to administer the business of the city. Many such trained men are now available.

Four cities in B.C. have been operating under commissioners, and in the case of Prince Rupert it appears to have resulted in an organized move to establish city managership there in a more permanent way. A vigorous and growing public opinion in Vancouver is calling upon the council, in a petition signed by 5,000 electors, to submit a by-law for the institution of such a plan there. This is the Vancouver Daily Province, November 23, 1939, said.

"The weakness of our present form of civic government is the very weakness the city manager advocates wish to remedy. The council spends all of its time on the details of administration, and none of its time on policy. We merely muddle and drift and make no attempt either to set a course or follow one."

In the U.S. there are about 500 cities operating under city managers. Their nonpolitical business methods are saving the ratepayers money and giving their citizens those healthful and cultural amenities that we merely dream about.

"A RIGHTEOUS WAR BUT NOT A HOLY WAR!"
To the Editor:—An Archbishop of the Anglican Church said recently, somewhere in England, that he could not call the war which the Allies are now waging a holy war, although it certainly is a righteous war!

Some say this saying may seem somewhat ambiguous for they wrongly assume that a righteous cause must of necessity be a holy one, just as a holy war cannot be anything but a righteous one!

A righteous cause may or may not have a spiritual objective, whereas a holy cause is always in essence a spiritual one! As a case in point could be mentioned the very good article in Saturday's Times of 10-2-40 by Willis Thornton re "Finns Not First 'Davids' to Whip 'Goliaths'" where we realize that the independence of the Dutch republics was the outcome, but not the primary object, of William the Silent's war against the Spanish oppressors.

He started a holy war which terminated in giving the north Netherlands their freedom of conscience and their political independence!

The Allies have not gone to war to "defend" God or the faith in God and His Word, for as a matter of fact there are found in their ranks, side by side, believers and atheists alike, all of them filled with a sense of righteous indignation, determined to crush the common oppressor who is putting into practice that evil idea, born of a diseased and contorted mind, that might is right!

Chinese Cafe Raid Nets $175

Fines totaling $175 were collected from the management and patrons of the New China Cafe in the City Police Court this morning as the result of a liquor raid on the premises by Constables Charles Webb and Harry Mercer.

Mar Poy, charged with being in charge of the premises and suffering persons to have liquor in a restaurant, was fined $75 after he pleaded guilty. The minimum penalty is $50, but at the attention of the court was drawn to the fact that Mar Poy had interfered with one of the officers in the course of duty when he attempted to knock from his hand a glass partly filled with rum which the officers was carrying away as evidence.

"It is very serious to interfere with an officer in the course of his duty," the magistrate said. "It was drunk," replied the accused.

Orval Bond and Dick Mar each pleaded guilty to charges of having liquor in a restaurant and each was fined $50. All fines were paid.

Two youths who stole a flashlight from a parked car in the Cadboro Bay district were before Magistrate Hall this morning and were remanded until tomorrow after pleading guilty to charges of stealing and retaining possession of the light. Both will bring character evidence tomorrow morning.

A remand until Monday to produce defence witnesses was granted Dorothy Hawthorn after prosecution evidence was heard on a charge that she drove in a dangerous manner along Gorge Road. Constable Alex Nichol estimated her speed at 40 miles an hour as she passed four cars in one block amid heavy traffic.

L. J. Carlsen was charged with failing to return to the scene of an accident and was remanded a week at the request of Percy Walls, defence counsel.

George Hampton, convicted on a charge of dangerous driving along the Gorge Road, was fined $20. Constable Alex Nichol testified he paced the accused at 45 miles an hour.

Students Hear Admiral Kelly

Pupils of the Oak Bay High School and senior students of the University School this afternoon heard Admiral Sir Howard Kelly tell stories of the sea and naval warfare throughout the ages. Following luncheon at Government House, Sir Howard went immediately to the High School for the lecture.

This evening at 8 he will inspect the Rainbow Sea Cadets at their Outer Wharf drill hall. Admiral Kelly will leave tomorrow afternoon for Vancouver and will remain there until Sunday when he will start east. He has speaking engagements in many Canadian cities.

TOWN TOPICS

The Overseas League will meet Monday afternoon at 2.30 at the Empress Hotel. Dr. Kaye Lamb will speak on "Books at the Crossroads."

Floods in northern California may delay produce shipments, causing a shortage on the local market, according to announcements made here by wholesalers. Consignments of bananas, asparagus and California tomatoes arrived here today. Large-size lettuce and rhubarb prices have risen. The next shipment of Mexican tomatoes is not due until Monday.

In Junior Businessmen's Y.M.C.A. House Basketball League play last night Tom Bremner's team won from Sid Fisher's team, 24 to 22, after a hard-fought battle. Bremner's team led 8 to 7 at half time. Peter McKechnie scored 10 points and Bremner 9 points for the winners, and Chuck Stevens was top scorer for the losers with nine points. Phil Rose refereed.

The Fairfield Men's Club held a Father and Son banquet on Friday last when about 60 guests were present. After supper Rev. N. J. Cress proposed the toast to the King. Harold Yardley proposed a toast to the fathers, and Ald. Archie Willis responded. Community singing was enjoyed with S. Turk at the piano. Dave Shepherd gave two selections on the piano-accompaniment. A number of humorous movies and pictures of plants and flowers in color were shown by Fred Spencer.

Sinking Funds In Healthy State

Present earning rates of Saanich sinking fund investments will place the municipality in a viable position as far as bonded indebtedness is concerned in less than two years, it was indicated in the 1939 financial statement presented to the municipal council last night.

According to a commentary included in the statement from the municipal auditors, the amount required to have on hand as at December 31, last year, was $461,356. Actually on hand was $443,000, which means an actual shortage of $18,356.

Market value of present sinking fund investments, however, are $11,000 more than listed and, in addition, the investments earn about 5 per cent. On this basis the net shortage would be reduced to $7,000 and this amount would be paid off in interest earnings in less than two years.

During 1939 the sinking fund shortage was reduced by $4,048 from $22,000. Payments into the sinking fund included $43,185 for interest on all debentures and $14,658 as a sinking fund instalment to reduce outstanding debt. The municipality actually completed the year with a book surplus which was applied to reduce the bank overdraft from $10,000 to $6,500. While many sources of revenue were increased there was an over expenditure of about $10,000 on the roads and bridges, account which is always a variable figure in fixing estimates.

The estimate was $40,000 and the expenditure $50,000. Receipts from taxation totaled $238,600, including $200,393 on current account and $38,200 on account of arrears and delinquents.

The percentage of tax collections was $5.93 as compared with $6.3 per cent for the previous year. Tax receipts held up well in the early part of the year but dropped off when war was declared.

Collections from trades licenses, dog, road and poll taxes and police court fines jumped from $6,279 in 1938 to $13,104 last year, this being due largely to increased activity on the part of the police department and revision of the system of collection.

First Aid Classes

As the demand for instruction in St. John Ambulance first aid, first aid industrial and home nursing continues, further classes in these subjects are now being organized and instruction will commence shortly.

Thirteen classes have been running since the first of the year, consisting of nine first aid and four home nursing. These are nearing the end of the course and registration is now open for the new classes. For further information apply to F. A. Jackson, secretary, G 5436, or at 534 Broughton Street.

Midnight tomorrow is the witching hour for auto drivers—and no exceptions.

This was the official dictum today from motor license headquarters. No grace will be allowed for the purchase of 1940 license plates.

Lapointe Visit Next Highlight

Next major attraction on the election bill of fare in British Columbia will be the visit of Hon. Ernest Lapointe to the coast Saturday.

Mr. Lapointe will not come to Victoria but he will speak in Vancouver. Premier Pattullo will attend the meeting and it is expected several people from here will go up to Vancouver to hear the great French-Canadian leader.

The new streamlining technique in Canada's latest campaign was nowhere better illustrated than when Hon. C. G. Power, Postmaster-General, spoke here yesterday afternoon at 3, took a plane at 4.30 and spoke at Lethbridge at 9 in the evening. The use of public address systems is now standard at all the larger meetings—here, which gives speakers' throats an easier time before a large audience.

LEFEAUX TONIGHT

The man who will attempt to defeat Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions, in his Vancouver Centre seat, will be heard here tonight. He is W. W. Lefaux, president of the B.C. section of the C.C.F., who will speak at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce on behalf of Kenneth McAlister, the C.C.F. candidate, who will also speak.

Additional plans for the C.C.F. campaign were issued at an organization meeting last night. Arrangements were announced for a social at the C.C.F. rooms, 27 Boyd Street, James Bay, tomorrow night, a public meeting at the same place Saturday night, and a gathering in Oak Bay Theatre Hall next Wednesday night. Mrs. E. Kerr of Vancouver will speak at the Thursday and Saturday affairs and Mrs. Laura Jamieson, M.P.P., at next Wednesday's meeting, supporting Mr. McAlister.

Victoria Conservative Association has engaged the Royal Victoria Theatre for the evening of March 7 when Lieut.-Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, will be here. Col. Drew is the man who started the Bren gun inquiry. He will come to Victoria following an afternoon meeting in Duncan.

All candidates in Nanaimo riding will be active tonight with Alan Chambers, Liberal, at Lake Cowichan; F. S. Cunliffe, Conservative, at Metcheson, and Ronald Grantham, C.C.F., at Ganges Harbour.

MAITLAND IN EAST

R. L. Maitland, K.C., the B.C. Conservative leader, who is to campaign in Ontario in exchange for the western visit of Col. Drew, has seven meetings arranged in the eastern province. Between March 5 and 9 he will speak in Peterborough, Guelph, Toronto, Leamington, Woodstock, Brantford and North Bay. He will swing back into the province at Revelstoke on March 13.

The National Liberal Federation in Ottawa announced that Hon. C. D. Howe, Transport Minister, would replace the works minister, Hon. P. J. A. Carlin, on a national broadcast election campaign address from Ottawa scheduled for 7.45 to 8 P.M. Friday evening.

Major A. H. Jukes, D.S.O., of Saanichton, advocate of monetary reform, has abandoned plans to run in the federal election campaign, he said today.

Major Jukes returned this week from Vancouver, where a delegation representing 14 societies had asked him to stand as a candidate in Vancouver Centre against Hon. Ian Mackenzie.

BLUE LINE SPEEDS OAK BAY SERVICE

To keep pace with increased patronage in the municipality, the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Co. through its president, H. L. Sangster, this morning announced an increased service on all Oak Bay bus routes, effective Friday morning.

The Blue Line will put into effect a 10-minute service between 8 and 9 a.m. and from noon till 7 p.m. On Wednesdays it will operate from 8 a.m. till 2 p.m. but after the 20-minute schedule will be adhered to. In addition the company will run a special early bus, leaving town at 6.30 a.m. instead of 7.15 as at present.

Ten new buses, recently brought here by the Blue Transit Company, subsidiary of the Veterans' Sightseeing and Transportation Company, will be placed in service. These vehicles were brought from Allentown, Pa., where Mr. Sangster visited to personally supervise their loading for Victoria. Five new drivers will be employed.

Assault Trial After Stabbing

Trial of Charlie Mow and Lee Zing, charged with assault occasioning actual bodily harm, as the result of a fork stabbing affray in the New China Cafe, opened in the City Police Court this morning.

After J. Gallagher, Saitair, the informant, had given his evidence, the hearing was remanded until next Monday to secure a naval man named Betts as a prosecution witness.

Gallagher said he went to the cafe February 22 about 12.30 a.m. and had a meal. During the time he was there he engaged in conversation with a naval man about recruiting. The sailor left Gallagher's table and went to an adjoining booth. Later, Gallagher said he got up and as he passed the booth where the sailor was he spoke to him.

As he did this he testified Charlie Mow reached forward and stabbed him in the arm with a table fork. He could give no reason for the attack.

Later, when he was attempting to leave in his car, he said Mow, Zing and several other Chinese went for him and he was assisted by the sailor and a companion in fighting them off. During that scuffle he said Zing kicked him in the leg.

Rosita Forbes Liked Victoria

Rosita Forbes, English explorer, writer and lecturer, who caused such a stir in Victoria when she spoke to various organizations last week, thoroughly enjoyed her stay in the city.

"I enjoyed Victoria and all your delightful people more than anything else that has happened to me in Canada . . . that last meeting (Rotary Club) was wonderful," she wrote to the secretary of the National Council of Education, which brought her here.

Mrs. Forbes started 600 members of the Women's Canadian Club when she left the platform until a musical program was over, explaining delays were not fair to a speaker. At the Rotary Club luncheon she asked the waitresses to remove their presence when she started speaking as their movements between the tables evidently bothered her.

Ain't It a Grand and Glorious Feeling?

WHEN THE PHONE RINGS AND YOUR SIXTH SENSE TELLS YOU IT'S ANOTHER REQUEST FOR A CHARITY DONATION—

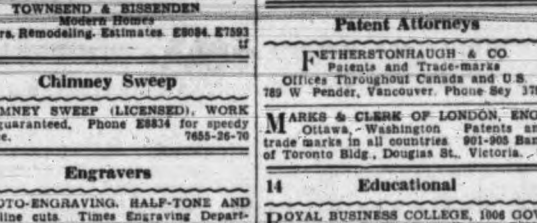

—SO, WITH FEAR AND TREMBLING YOU ANSWER IT—

AND IT TURNS OUT TO BE ONE OF THE BEST HOSTESSES IN TOWN—INVITING YOU OVER TO DINNER—

OR ELSE IT'S THAT GABBY NEIGHBOR, TO GIVE HER DAILY RESUME OF THE TOWN TALK—

OH, A GIRL! AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING?!!

Quoted Bible On
Naval Convoy

LONDON (CP)—Geoffrey
Shakespeare, financial and parliamentary secretary to the Admirality, last night quoted the Bible to describe how Canadian troops, "encompassed with the hazards of the deep," found "comfort, security, protection and might" in the Royal naval convoy.

Mr. Shakespeare said the heavy-armed hosts who came to the aid of the prophet Elisha were no more welcome than the British fleet when it loomed out of the Atlantic mists before the second contingent of the Canadian Active Service force.

Speaking at the conclusion of the address by Winston Churchill,
First Lord of the Admiralty, Mr.
Shakespeare said:

"It is not only the people of this country who realize that it
(the navy) is their life blood. The people of the Dominions have seen the conveying of troops from the other side of the world.
"I had the wonderful experience of being present in a northern port on arrival of the second Canadian contingent and talking to the men who had come over.
The Canadians told me the moment of their experience in their lives was as they approached these shores."

"It was a day of low visibility and clouds. Suddenly the mist cleared, and through it loomed the great capital ships and squadrons and flotillas of the whole fleet, bringing to them a feeling of comfort, security, protection and might."

"Members versed in the Bible will remember how Elisha was once trapped in a city when the King of Assyria came down, and how Elisha lifted up his eyes and prayed to God and how he saw the mountains were filled with horsemen and chariots of fire.

"So it was to these Canadians, encompassed with the hazards of the deep. To them appeared the spectacle of the Royal Navy, symbol of the majesty, the sea-power and the welcome of the British nation."

British Flying
Boat Damaged

LONDON (AP)—Capt. Harold Balfour, Under-secretary for Air, told the House of Commons today that one of three 31-ton flying boats built for Britain's proposed trans-Atlantic service was damaged recently and another was returned to the makers for modification. He said they would be used when service starts in June.

HOW TO OVERCOME
ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug stores—or any drugist —a package of Hemoroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally quickly relieves the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is highly recommended, is easy to use and it seems the height of foolly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Baseball Gossip

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)

Lefty Lee Grissom, the pitcher
New York Yankees took from their 1939 world series rivals,
Cincinnati Reds, looks for a good season because his arm isn't sore.
"I pulled a muscle in my left shoulder in 1937 pitching in seven games in six days," he explained.
"Last year I started off good, but I couldn't go the route. I pitched only one complete game all year.
The day after we clinched the pennant I beat the Pittsburgh Pirates."

He gave his wing his first trial since last season when the Yanks' camp opened yesterday and didn't feel a twinge.

AVALON, Calif.—Chicago's
Cubs are jubilant over the fact Clay Bryant's arm hasn't given any indication of soreness after extended throwing drills. His work and the showing of Julio Bonetti have been highlights of early workouts. Bonetti has a good fast ball and curve and is working to develop deception in his delivery.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—Glen Stewart, the highly-regarded rookie third baseman from Jersey City, will have a real job ahead of him when he reaches New York Giants' camp. George Myatt, who wants to hold the regular job at third, worked out yesterday with Burgess Whitehead on second and both gave a fancy fielding display. Myatt's knee, operated on last fall, appeared perfectly sound.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—It didn't take manager Leo Durocher of Brooklyn long to make up his mind about Joe Vosmik, the former American League outfielder. He stood behind the cage at batting practice yesterday and saw Joe belt a couple to the far corners of the field and announced, "Vosmik is my left fielder." He has 10 candidates for the other two regular gardening jobs.

ANAHEIM, CALIF.—Connie
Mack apparently is in no mood for dickering with Frank Hayes, the Philadelphia Athletics' hold-out catcher. "Tell Hayes," he said, "that if he will call at the office in Shibe Park and sign his contract, railroad transportation to Anaheim will be waiting there for him."

ORLANDO, FLA.—Coach
Benny Bengough of Washington
Senators thinks Paul Gehrmann, former Cincinnati pitcher, has the stuff to stick in the majors
if he can produce a good curve.
"Gehrmann," said Benny, "is one of those fellows whose fast ball, when it's kept low, sinks instead of rising. If he's got a curve he ought to be a big help."

TAMPA, FLA.—Cincinnati's Reds may realize they had to take it and like it last fall in the world series, but they're determined to go places this year.
Ernie Lombardi, all smiles after signing his new contract, declared "I'm going to regain the batting championship," and when a photographer asked Johnny Vander Meer what minor league club he was with last year, Johnny replied: "The Reds, my friend."

ST. LOUIS—Second baseman
Stuart Martin is the latest player to come into the Cardinals' fold, leaving only three players unsigned as the Cards head for St.
Louis to spring training Saturday. The three are Joe Medwick,
Don Padgett and Lyn Lary. The Vanguard of the Browns, mostly pitchers, leaves here today for San Antonio, where drills start Thursday.

SCORING LEADERS
IN THREE-WAY TIE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—
The scrambled race for the scoring leadership in the International-American Hockey League
resolved itself into a three-way tie during the past week with Ronny Hudson of Indianapolis
Capitals, Norm Locking of Syracuse Stars and Tony Hemmerling of New Haven Eagles all deadlocked at the top with 48 points.
Hemmerling gained three points during the week, while Locking and Hudson added four points to their total.

Fred Thurrier of Springfield
Indians was next in line with 45 points, while another three-way tie found Max Bennett and Jack
Toupin of the Stars and Norm
Schultz of the Indians with 44 each.

Pete Bessone of Pittsburgh
Hornets had a record of 92 minutes in the penalty box, out-stripping his nearest rival by 25 minutes.

The current attraction at the Plaza Theatre is an adaptation of a pre-war opera, "The Girl in the Taxi," which ran two years at the Lyric Theatre, giving Yvonne Arnaud her first starring part. That same part is taken in vivacious fashion by Frances
Day in the screen play.

French Nobles Vainly Tried to Halt Revolt

Louis the Fourteenth was called "the Grand Monarch." His power was great, and his life was carried on in a "grand style."

When a ruler spends vast sums of money for his palaces, feasts and wars, one thing is certain—someone is paying for it. Louis and later French kings spent money which the people of their country earned.

Danton

Seventy-four years after the Grand Monarch died, a revolt broke out in France. Thousands of the so-called "plain people" had come to believe they were being badly treated. Mobs were formed and buildings were destroyed. In Paris the much-hated prison called the Bastille was broken into and the prisoners set free. The prison was burned and was left a wreck.

The "Fall of the Bastille" took place in 1789, on the Fourteenth of July. This date later became a national holiday and it is celebrated in present-day France.

When the Bastille was taken, another Louis—the Sixteenth—was on the throne. He and the nobles did what they could to end the troubles. In August a large number of nobles gathered and gave up some of their old rights. For a time it seemed that things might quiet down. The king moved his home from Versailles into the city of Paris and gave way before the demands of the people's Assembly.

In 1791—not quite two years after the Fall of the Bastille—the king and his wife, Marie Antoinette, tried to leave the country. They were captured before reaching the frontier and were brought back to Paris. A few months later he signed a paper which declared war against Austria.

Austria lost no time in sending an army into France. Her soldiers were helped by an army from Prussia.

Talk arose against the king. Some said he was plotting to use the Austrian army to get back his power in France. A trial of a sort was held, and he was condemned to death. The queen also suffered the death penalty.

A fearful period, known as the Reign of Terror, followed. Hundreds of nobles lost their lives, many of them good men who never had meant to do any wrong.

Among the leaders of the French Revolution was one named George Danton. He joined in ending the power of royalty and the nobles, but then did all he could to stop the Reign of Terror. This brought about his own arrest and he was put to death.

HOROSCOPE

Thursday, February 29

This should be a fairly fortunate day. There is a benefic aspect believed to encourage right thinking and wise understanding. The public mind should be less confused than it has been regarding economic conditions and financial problems affecting the Dominion. Women are well directed and should be fortunate in obtaining employment. The evening is not auspicious for entertaining or for conferring with prominent men.

Letters should bring good tidings to the family circle today when college students report on progress. The evening promises romance for girls who will attract men of wealth, or at least those who are fairly prosperous. Progress in friendship already started is indicated. Young widows will awaken extraordinary interest among eligible men. In the home hospitality today should be successful. Home-makers will benefit through plans for spring repairs and improvements. Household arts should be cultivated.

Trade and commerce should be assuring, and the spring season profitable. Engineers and builders have the forecast of extraordinary activity in the spring. Earthquakes and other perils due to natural phenomena are prognosticated. A late spring that is accompanied by floods may cause heavy losses.

A sinister incident will cause widespread comment and insist on expression of opinion regarding the control of the sale of alcohol.

While the stars indicate that this is a period in which the wealth of nations will vanish,

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been going with a girl for six months, believing that she was two years younger than I. Now I find that she lied to me about her age and that she is two years older than I am. I cannot get over the fact that she has deceived me and tried to marry me under false pretenses, and I don't know what to do about it.

Answer: Forget it. Two years either way in age makes no manner of difference in the success or failure of marriage. Because women mature earlier and hence grow old faster than men, and because a woman who is older than her husband always assumes a maternal and bossy attitude toward him, makes it a mistake for a man to marry a woman who is much older than he is, but any difference under six or seven years is negligible.

There have been many happy marriages even when the wife was more than a decade older than the husband. Congeniality in marriage is what counts and that depends upon so many other things than the calendar.

It is foolish for you to take it so to heart about the girl telling you tarriddles about her age. Probably there isn't a woman in the world who has never yarned about how many birthdays she has had. It is one of the lies on which the Recording Angel drops a pitying tear that blots it out. Anyway, a woman's age is a matter between herself and her dressing table, and it is none of her husband's business.

DOROTHY DIX.
